- (b) where the safe working load of machinery for lifting loads depends on its configuration—
  - (i) the machinery is clearly marked to indicate its safe working load for each configuration; or
  - (ii) information which clearly indicates its safe working load for each configuration is kept with the machinery;
- (c) accessories for lifting are also marked in such a way that it is possible to identify the characteristics necessary for their safe use;
- (d) lifting equipment which is designed for lifting persons is appropriately and clearly marked to this effect; and
- (e) lifting equipment which is not designed for lifting persons but which might be so used in error is appropriately and clearly marked to the effect that it is not designed for lifting persons.

or, if obtained from the undertaking of another person, it is accompanied by physical evidence referred to in subregulation (4); and

(b) that once installed, lifting equipment is maintained in good working order.

(2) Every employer shall ensure that, where the safety of lifting equipment depends on the installation conditions, it is thoroughly examined—

(a) after installation and before being put into service for the first time; and

(b) after assembly and before being put into service at a new site or in a new location, to ensure that it has been installed correctly and is safe to operate.

(3) Subject to subregulation (5) every employer shall ensure that lifting equipment which is exposed to conditions causing deterioration which is liable to result in dangerous situations is—

(a) thoroughly examined—

- (4) Every employer shall ensure that no lifting equipment—

- (a) leaves his undertaking; or
- (b) if obtained from the undertaking of another person, is used in his undertaking, unless it is accompanied by physical evidence that the last thorough examination required to be carried out under this regulation has been carried out.

(5) Where lifting equipment was before the coming into force of these Regulations required to be thoroughly examined by a provision specified in subregulation (6), the first thorough examination under subregulation (3) shall be made before the date by which a thorough examination would have been required by that provision had it remained in force.
