(2) The rights mentioned in paragraphs (a) to (d) of subsection (1) shall be known as “parental rights”; and a parent, or any person acting on his behalf, shall have right to sue, or to defend, in any proceedings as respects those rights.

(3) Subject to subsection (4), where two or more persons have a parental right as respects a child, they may not exercise that right without the consent of the other or, as the case may be, of any of the others, unless any order of the court, deed or agreement conferring the right, or regulating its exercise, otherwise provides.

(4) Without prejudice to any court order or section 30, no person shall be entitled to remove a child habitually resident in Gibraltar from, or to retain any such child outwith, Gibraltar without the consent of a person described in subsection (6).

(5) The parental rights supersede any analogous rights enjoyed by a parent at common law; but this section is without prejudice to any other right so enjoyed by him or to any right enjoyed by him by, under or by virtue of any other provision of this Act or of any other enactment.

(6) The description of a person referred to in subsection (4) is a person (whether or not a parent of the child) who for the time being has and is exercising in relation to him a right mentioned in paragraph (a) or (c) of subsection (1); except that, where both the child's parents are persons so described, the consent required for his removal or retention shall be that of them both.

Parental responsibility for children.

11.(1) Where a child's father and mother were married to each other at the time of his birth, they shall each have parental responsibility for the child.

(2) Subject to section 13, where a child's father and mother were not married to each other at the time of his birth, the mother shall have parental responsibility for the child.

- (3) The rule of law that a father is the natural guardian of his legitimate child is abolished.
- (4) More than one person may have parental responsibility for the same child at the same time.
- (5) A person who has parental responsibility for a child at any time shall not cease to have that responsibility solely because some other person subsequently acquires parental responsibility for the child.
- (6) Where more than one person has parental responsibility for a child, each of them may act alone and without the other in meeting that responsibility; but nothing in this Act shall be taken to affect the operation of any enactment which requires the consent of more than one person in a matter affecting the child.
- (7) The fact that a person has parental responsibility for a child shall not entitle him to act in any way that would be incompatible with any order made with respect to the child under this Act.
- (8) A person who has parental responsibility for a child may not surrender or transfer any part of that responsibility to another but may arrange for some or all of it to be met by one or more persons acting on his behalf.
- (9) The person with whom any such arrangement is made may himself be a person who already has parental responsibility for the child concerned.
- (10) The making of any arrangement referred to in this section shall not affect any liability of the person making it which may arise from any failure to meet any part of his parental responsibility for the child concerned.

Parental responsibility: Meaning.

12.(1) In this Act “parental responsibility”–

- (a) means all the rights, duties, powers, responsibilities and authority which by law a parent of a child has in relation to the child and his property; and
- (b) includes–
 - (i) the rights, powers and duties which a guardian of the child’s estate (appointed, before the commencement of this Act, to act generally) would have had in relation to the child and his property; and

- (ii) the right of the guardian to receive or recover in his own name, for the benefit of the child, property of whatever description and wherever situated which the child is entitled to receive or recover.

(2) The fact that a person has, or does not have, parental responsibility for a child shall not affect—

- (a) any obligation which he may have in relation to the child, such as a statutory duty to maintain the child; or
- (b) any rights which, in the event of the child's death, he or any other person may have in relation to the child's property.

(3) A person who does not have parental responsibility for a particular child, but has care of the child, may, subject to the provisions of this Act, do what is reasonable in all the circumstances of the case for the purpose of safeguarding or promoting the child's welfare.

Parental responsibility of the father who was not married.

13. (1) Where a child's father and mother were not married to each other at the time of his birth, the father shall acquire parental responsibility for the child if—

- (a) he becomes registered as the child's father under section 15(1)(a) or (b) of the Births and Deaths Registration Act;
- (b) he and the child's mother make an agreement (a "parental responsibility agreement") providing for him to have parental responsibility for the child;
- (c) the court, on application of either the child's mother or the father, orders that he shall have parental responsibility for the child; or
- (d) the child becomes legitimate as a result of section 3 of the Legitimacy Act.

(2) No parental responsibility agreement shall have effect for the purposes of this Act unless—

- (a) it is made in the form prescribed by the Minister by Regulations; and

(3) A person who has acquired parental responsibility under subsection (1) shall cease to have that responsibility only if the court so orders.

(4) The court may make an order under subsection (3) on the application—

- (a) of any person who has parental responsibility for the child; or
- (b) with the leave of the court, of the child himself, subject, in the case of parental responsibility acquired under subsection (1)(c) above, to section 29(4).

(5) The court may only grant leave under subsection (4)(b) if it is satisfied that the child has sufficient understanding to make the proposed application.

Parental responsibility of step-parents.

14.(1) Where a child's parent ("parent A") who has parental responsibility for the child is married to, or a civil partner of, a person who is not the child's parent ("the step-parent")–

- (a) parent A or, if the other parent of the child also has parental responsibility for the child, both parents may by agreement with the step-parent provide for the step-parent to have parental responsibility for the child; or
- (b) the court may, on the application of the step-parent, order that the step-parent shall have parental responsibility for the child.

(2) An agreement under subsection (1)(a) is also a "parental responsibility agreement", and section 13(2) applies in relation to such agreements as it applies in relation to parental responsibility agreements under section 13.

(3) A parental responsibility agreement under subsection (1)(a), or an order under subsection (1)(b), may only be brought to an end by an order of the court made on the application–

- (a) of any person who has parental responsibility for the child; or
- (b) with the leave of the court, of the child himself.

(4) The court may only grant leave under subsection (3)(b) if it is satisfied that the child has sufficient understanding to make the proposed application.

PART IV Guardianship

 - (b) a residence order has been made with respect to the child in favour of a parent or guardian or special guardian of his who has died while the order was in force;
 - (c) paragraph (b) does not apply, and the child's only or last surviving special guardian dies.
- (2) The power conferred by subsection (1) may also be exercised in any family proceedings if the court considers that the order should be made even though no application has been made for it.
- (3) A parent who has parental responsibility for his or her child may appoint another individual to be the child's guardian in the event of his or her death.
- (4) A guardian of a child may appoint another individual to take his or her place as the child's guardian in the event his or her death; and a special guardian of a child may appoint another individual to be the child's guardian in the event of his death.

- the appointment shall take effect on the death of that person.
- (8) Where, on the death of any person making an appointment under subsection (3) or (4)–

- (a) the child concerned has a parent with parental responsibility for him; and
- (b) subsection (7)(b) does not apply, the appointment shall take effect when the child no longer has a parent who has parental responsibility for him.

(9) Subsections (1) and (7) do not apply if the residence order referred to in paragraph (b) of those subsections was also made in favour of a surviving parent of the child.

(10) Nothing in this section shall be taken to prevent an appointment under subsection (3) or (4) being made by two or more persons acting jointly.

(11) Subject to any provision made by rules of court, no court shall exercise the inherent jurisdiction of the Supreme Court to appoint a guardian of the estate of any child.

(12) Where rules of court are made under subsection (11) they may prescribe the circumstances in which, and conditions subject to which, an appointment of such a guardian may be made.

(13) A guardian of a child may only be appointed in accordance with the provisions of this section.

Revocation and disclaimer of guardians.

16.(1) An appointment of guardian under section 15(3),(4) or (5) revokes an earlier such appointment (including one made in a will or codicil that is not revoked) made by the same person in respect of the same child, unless it is clear (whether as the result of an express provision in the later appointment or by any necessary implication) that the purpose of the later appointment is to appoint an additional guardian.

(2) An appointment of guardian under section 15(3),(4) or (5) (including one made in a will or codicil that is not revoked) is revoked if the person who made the appointment revokes it by a written and dated instrument which is signed—

- (a) by him; or
- (b) at his direction, in his presence and in the presence of two witnesses who each attest the signature.

(3) An appointment of guardian under section 15(3),(4) or (5) (other than one made in a will or codicil) is revoked if, with the intention of revoking the appointment, the person who made it—

- (b) has some other person who destroys that instrument in his presence.

(4) An appointment of guardian under section 15(3),(4) or (5) (including one made in a will or codicil that is not revoked) is revoked if the person appointed is the spouse of the person who made the appointment and either-

- (a) the court by order dissolves, or by decree annuls, a marriage; or
- (b) the marriage is dissolved or annulled and the divorce or annulment is entitled to recognition in Gibraltar by virtue of the Matrimonial Causes Act, unless a contrary intention appears by the appointment.

(4A) An appointment under section 15(3), (4) or (5) (including one made in an unrevoked will or codicil) is revoked if the person appointed is the civil partner of the person who made the appointment and either-

- (a) the court by order dissolves, or by decree annuls, the civil partnership; or
- (b) the civil partnership is dissolved or annulled and the dissolution or annulment is entitled to recognition in Gibraltar by virtue of the Matrimonial Causes Act, unless a contrary intention appears by the appointment.

(5) For the avoidance of doubt, an appointment of guardian under section 15(3),(4) or (5) made in a will or codicil is revoked if the will or codicil is revoked.

(6) A person who is appointed as a guardian under section 15(3),(4) or (5) may disclaim his appointment by an instrument in writing signed by him and made within a reasonable time of his first knowing that the appointment has taken effect.

(7) Where Regulations are made prescribing the manner in which such disclaimers must be recorded, no such disclaimer shall have effect unless it is recorded in the prescribed manner.

(8) Any appointment of a guardian under section 15 may be brought to an end at any time by order of the court-

- (a) on the application of any person who has parental responsibility for the child;
- (b) on the application of the child concerned, with leave of the court; or

- (c) in any family proceedings, if the court considers that it should be brought to an end even though no application has been made.

Welfare reports.

17. (1) A court considering any question with respect to a child under this Act may—

- (a) ask a person designated by the Minister or the court welfare officer; or
- (b) ask the Agency to arrange for an officer of it to report to the court on such matters relating to the welfare of that child as are required to be dealt with in the report.

(2) The Minister may—

- (a) make Regulations specifying matters which, unless the court orders otherwise, must be dealt with in any report under this section; or
- (b) add to the list of persons under subsection (1) whom the court could ask to produce a report.

(3) The report may be made in writing, or orally, as the court requires.

(4) Regardless of any enactment or rule of law which would otherwise prevent it from doing so, the court may take account of—

- (a) any statement contained in the report; and
- (b) any evidence given in respect of the matters referred to in the report, in so far as the statement or evidence is, in the opinion of the court, relevant to the question which it is considering.

(5) It shall be the duty of the Agency or probation officer to comply with any request for a report under this section.

Special guardianship

Special guardianship orders.

18.(1) A “special guardianship order” is an order appointing one or more individuals to be a child’s “special guardian” or “special guardians”.

- (2) A special guardian shall—
- (a) be aged eighteen or over; and
 - (b) not be a parent of the child in question.
- (3) Subsections (4) to (7) shall be subject to subsection (2).
- (4) The court may make a special guardianship order with respect to any child on the application of an individual who is entitled to make such an application with respect to the child, or who has obtained the leave of the court to make the application, or on the joint application of more than one such individual.
- (5) Section 26 (3) applies in relation to an application for leave to apply for a special guardianship order as it applies in relation to an application for leave to apply for an order under section 25.
- (6) The individuals who are entitled to apply for a special guardianship order with respect to a child are—
- (a) any guardian of the child;
 - (b) any individual in whose favour a residence order is in force with respect to the child;
 - (c) any individual listed in subsection (5)(b) or (c) of section 27 (as read with subsection (10) of that section); or
 - (d) an Agency foster carer with whom the child has lived for a period of at least one year immediately preceding the application.
- (7) The court may also make a special guardianship order with respect to a child in any family proceedings in which a question arises with respect to the welfare of the child if—
- (a) an application for the order has been made by an individual who falls within subsection (4) (or more than one such individual jointly); or
 - (b) the court considers that a special guardianship order should be made even though no such application has been made.
- (8) No individual may make an application under subsection (4) or (7)(a) unless, before the beginning of the period of three months ending with the date of the application, he has given written notice of his intention to make the application, if the child in question is being looked after by the Agency, to the Agency.

(9) On receipt of a notice referred to in subsection (8), the Agency shall investigate the matter and prepare a report for the court dealing with—

- (a) the suitability of the applicant to be a special guardian;
- (b) such matters, if any, as may be prescribed by Regulations; and
- (c) any other matter which the Agency considers to be relevant.

(10) The court may itself ask the Agency to conduct an investigation and prepare a report as referred to in subsection (9) and in that case, the Agency shall do so.

(11) The Agency may make such arrangements as it deems fit for any person to act on its behalf in connection with conducting an investigation or preparing a report referred to in subsection (9) or (10).

(12) The court may not make a special guardianship order unless it has received a report dealing with the matters referred to in subsection (9).

(13) Subsections (9) and (10) of section 27 apply in relation to special guardianship orders as they apply in relation to orders made under section 25.

Special guardianship orders: making.

19.(1) The court shall, before making a special guardianship order, consider whether, if the order were made—

- (a) a contact order should also be made with respect to the child;
- (b) any order made under section 25, in force with respect to the child should be varied or discharged;
- (c) where a contact order made with respect to the child is not discharged, any enforcement order relating to that contact order should be revoked; and
- (d) where a contact activity direction has been made as regards contact with the child and is in force, that contact activity direction should be discharged.

(2) On making a special guardianship order, the court may also—

- (a) give leave for the child to be known by a new surname; and

- (b) grant the leave required by section 20(3)(b), either generally or for specified purposes.

Special guardianship orders: effect.

20.(1) The effect of a special guardianship order is that while the order remains in force—

- (a) a special guardian appointed by the order has parental responsibility for the child in respect of whom it is made; and
- (b) subject to any other order in force with respect to the child under this Act, a special guardian is entitled to exercise parental responsibility to the exclusion of any other person with parental responsibility for the child, apart from another special guardian.

(2) Subsection (1) does not affect—

- (a) the operation of any enactment or rule of law which requires the consent of more than one person with parental responsibility in a matter affecting the child; or
- (b) any rights which a parent of the child has in relation to the child's adoption or placement for adoption.

(3) While a special guardianship order is in force with respect to a child, no person may—

- (a) cause the child to be known by a new surname; or
- (b) remove him from Gibraltar,

without either the written consent of every person who has parental responsibility for the child or the leave of the court.

(4) Subsection (3)(b) does not prevent the removal of a child, for a period of less than three months, by a special guardian of his.

(5) If the child with respect to whom a special guardianship order is in force dies, his special guardian must take reasonable steps to give notice of that fact to—

- (a) each parent of the child with parental responsibility; and
- (b) each guardian of the child,

but if the child has more than one special guardian, and one of them has taken such steps in relation to a particular parent or guardian, any other special guardian need not do so as respects that parent or guardian.

Variation and discharge of special guardianship orders.

- (e) the child himself; or
- (f) the Agency.

(2) In any family proceedings in which a question arises with respect to the welfare of a child with respect to whom a special guardianship order is in force, the court may also vary or discharge the special guardianship order if it considers that the order should be varied or discharged, even though no application has been made under subsection (1).

(3) The following must obtain the leave of the court before making an application under subsection (1)–

- (a) the child;
- (b) any parent or guardian of his;
- (c) any step-parent of his who has acquired, and has not lost, parental responsibility for him by virtue of section 14; and
- (d) any individual falling within subsection (1)(d) who immediately before the making of the special guardianship order had, but no longer has, parental responsibility for him.

(4) Where the person applying for leave to make an application under subsection (1) is the child, the court may only grant leave if it is satisfied that he has sufficient understanding to make the proposed application under subsection (1).

(5) The court may not grant leave to a person falling within subsection (3)(b)(c) or (d) unless it is satisfied that there has been a significant change in circumstances since the making of the special guardianship order.

Supplementary provisions for making, varying or discharging special guardianship orders.

22.(1) In proceedings in which any question of making, varying or discharging a special guardianship order arises, the court shall, in the light of any rules made by virtue of subsection (3)–

- (a) draw up a timetable with a view to determining the question without delay; and
- (b) give such directions as it considers appropriate for the purpose of ensuring, so far as is reasonably practicable, that the timetable is adhered to.

(2) Subsection (1) applies also in relation to proceedings in which any other question with respect to a special guardianship order arises.

(3) The power to make rules in subsection (2) of section 28 applies for the purposes of this section as it applies for the purposes of that section.

(4) A special guardianship order, or an order varying one, may contain provisions which are to have effect for a specified period.

(5) Section 28(7) (apart from paragraph (c)) applies in relation to special guardianship orders and orders varying them as it applies in relation to orders made under section 25.

Special guardianship support services.

23.(1) The Agency may make arrangements for the provision of special guardianship support services, which means–

- (a) a child with respect to whom a special guardianship order is in force;
- (b) a special guardian;
- (c) a parent; or
- (d) any other person who falls within a prescribed description, the Agency may carry out an assessment of that person's needs for special guardianship support services.

(3) The Agency may, at the request of any other person, carry out an assessment of that person's needs for special guardianship support services.

(4) If–

- (a) the Agency decides to provide any special guardianship support services to a person; and
- (b) the circumstances fall within a prescribed description, the Agency may prepare a plan in accordance with which special guardianship support services are to be provided to him, and keep the plan under review.

(5) The Minister may by Regulations make provision about assessments, preparing and reviewing plans, the provision of special guardianship support services in accordance with plans and reviewing the provision of special guardianship support services.

(6) The Regulations may in particular make provisions–

- (a) about the type of assessment which is to be carried out, or the way in which an assessment is to be carried out;
- (b) about the way in which a plan is to be prepared;
- (c) about the way in which, and the time at which, a plan or the provision of special guardianship support services is to be reviewed;
- (d) about the considerations to which the Agency is to have regard in carrying out an assessment or review or preparing a plan;

- (e) as to the circumstances in which the Agency may provide special guardianship support services subject to conditions; and
- (f) as to the consequences of conditions imposed by virtue of paragraph (e) not being met.

(7) The Agency may provide special guardianship support services or any part of them by securing their provision by a person within a description prescribed in Regulations of persons who may provide special guardianship support services.

(8) The Agency may carry out an assessment of the needs of any person for the purposes of this section at the same time as an assessment of his needs is made under any other provision of this Act or under any other enactment.

Representations with respect to special guardianship support services.

24.(1) The Agency shall establish a procedure for considering representations, including complaints, made to it by any person to whom it may provide special guardianship support services about the discharge of its functions under section 23 in relation to him.

(2) Regulations may be made by the Minister imposing time limits on the making of representations under subsection (1).

(3) In considering representations under subsection (1), the Agency shall comply with Regulations, if any, made by the Minister for the purposes of this subsection.

 - (ii) the wishes and feelings of the child's parents.

(10) The period of three years mentioned in subsection (5)(b) need not be continuous but must not have begun more than five years before, or ended more than three months before, the making of the application.

General principles and supplementary provisions.

28.(1) In proceedings in which any question of making an order under section 25, or any other question with respect to such an order, arises, the court shall (in the light of any rules made by virtue of subsection (2))—

- (a) draw up a timetable with a view to determining the question without delay; and
- (b) give such directions as it considers appropriate for the purpose of ensuring, so far as is reasonably practicable, that that timetable is adhered to.

(2) Rules of court may—

- (4) Where a residence order is made in favour of two or more persons who do not themselves all live together, the order may specify the periods during which the child is to live in the different households concerned.
- (5) Where—
- (a) a residence order has been made with respect to a child; and
 - (b) as a result of the order the child lives, or is to live, with one of two parents who each have parental responsibility for him,
- the residence order shall cease to have effect if the parents live together for a continuous period of more than six months.
- (6) A contact order which requires the parent with whom a child lives to allow the child to visit, or otherwise have contact with, his other parent shall cease to have effect if the parents live together for a continuous period of more than six months.

- (d) make such incidental, supplemental or consequential provision as the court thinks fit.

Residence orders and parental responsibility.

29.(1) Where the court makes a residence order in favour of the father of a child it shall, if the father would not otherwise have parental responsibility for the child, also make an order under section 13 giving him that responsibility.

(2) Where the court makes a residence order in favour of any person who is not the parent or guardian of the child concerned that person shall have parental responsibility for the child while the residence order remains in force.

(3) Where a person has parental responsibility for a child as a result of subsection (2), he shall not have the right—

(5) The power of a court to make a residence order in favour of any person who is not the parent or guardian of the child concerned includes power to direct, at the request of that person, that the order continue in force until the child reaches the age of eighteen unless the order is brought to an end earlier; and any power to vary a residence order is exercisable accordingly.

(6) Where a residence order includes such a direction, an application to vary or discharge the order may only be made, if apart from this subsection the leave of the court is not required, with such leave.

Change of child's name or removal from jurisdiction.

30.(1) Where a residence order is in force with respect to a child, no person may–

- (a) cause the child to be known by a new surname; or
- (b) remove him from Gibraltar,

without either the written consent of every person who has parental responsibility for the child or the leave of the court.

(2) Subsection (1)(b) does not prevent the removal of a child, for a period of less than one month, by the person in whose favour the residence order is made.

(3) In making a residence order with respect to a child the court may grant the leave required by subsection (1)(b), either generally or for specified purposes.

(4) A child may be removed from Gibraltar by a person in whose favour a contact order is made during the period stipulated in that order, unless the child is a ward of court subject to a care order, supervision order or an emergency protection order in which case leave of the court must be taken before such removal of the child.

Enforcement of residence orders.

31.(1) Where–

- (a) a residence order is in force with respect to a child in favour of any person; and
- (b) any other person is in breach of the arrangements settled by that order, including one in whose favour the order is in force, the person mentioned in paragraph (a) may, as soon as the requirement in subsection (3) is complied with, apply to the court to enforce the order under subsection (7).

(2) Where–

- (a) a residence order is in force with respect to a child in favour of any person;
- (b) the child refuses to allow compliance with the residence order or rejects or exhibits hatred towards a person mentioned in paragraph (a); and
- (c) that refusal, hatred or rejection is caused by the actions or behaviour of any other person, including one in whose favour the order is in force, the person referred to in paragraph (a) may, as soon as the requirement of subsection (3) is complied with, apply to the court for any of the orders listed in subsection (8).

- (3) The requirement is that a copy of the order has been served on the other person.
- (4) The court may only make an order under subsections (7) and (8) if it is satisfied beyond reasonable doubt that a person has failed to comply with a residence order or is responsible for the circumstances set out in subsection (2)(b) and (c).
- (5) But the court may not make an order under subsection (7) if it is satisfied that the person had a reasonable excuse for failing to comply with the residence order.
- (6) The burden of proof as to the matter mentioned in subsection (5) lies on the person claiming to have had a reasonable excuse, and the standard of proof is the balance of probabilities.
- (7) Where a person disobeys a residence order, the court may–
 - (a) order him to pay a sum not exceeding £50 for every day during which he is in default; or the court is satisfied that there will be no further breaches of the residence order; and

- (e) make a care order for a specified period of time provided the Agency consents to that order until the court is satisfied that there will be no further breaches of the residence order.

(9) Where the court makes or varies a residence order, it shall attach to the residence order or the order varying the residence order a notice warning of the consequences of failing to comply with the residence order.

(10) This section is without prejudice to any other remedy open to the person in whose favour the residence order is in force either under this Act or any other law.

Part VI

Contact with children

Contact activity directions.

32.(1) Where in proceedings in which the court is considering whether to make provision about contact with a child by making—

- (a) a contact order with respect to the child; or
- (b) an order varying or discharging a contact order with respect to the child, the court may make a contact activity direction in connection with that provision about contact.

(2) A contact activity direction is a direction requiring an individual who is a party to the proceedings to take part in an activity that promotes contact with the child concerned.

(3) A direction made under this section shall specify the activity and the person providing the activity.

(4) The activities that may be so required include, in particular—

- (a) programmes, classes and counselling or guidance sessions of a kind that—
 - (i) may assist a person as regards establishing, maintaining or improving contact with a child;
 - (ii) may, by addressing a person's violent behaviour, enable or facilitate contact with a child; and

- (b) sessions in which information or advice is given as regards making or operating arrangements for contact with a child, including making arrangements by means of mediation.
- (5) No individual may be required by a contact activity direction—
 - (a) to undergo medical or psychiatric examination, assessment or treatment; or
 - (b) to take part in mediation.
- (6) A court may not on the same occasion—
 - (a) make a contact activity direction; and
 - (b) dispose finally of the proceedings as they relate to contact with the child concerned.
- (7) Subsection (1) has effect subject to the restrictions in subsections (9) to (12) and section 34.
- (8) In considering whether to make a contact activity direction, the welfare of the child concerned is to be the court's paramount consideration.
- (9) A court may not make a contact activity direction in any proceedings unless there is a dispute as regards the provision about contact that the court is considering whether to make in the proceedings.
- (10) A court may not make a contact activity direction requiring an individual who is a child to take part in an activity unless the individual is a parent of the child in relation to whom the court is considering provision about contact.
- (11) A court may not make a contact activity direction in connection with the making, variation or discharge of a contact order, if the contact order is, or would if made be, an excepted order.
- (12) A contact order with respect to a child is an excepted order if—
 - (a) it is made in proceedings that include proceedings on an application for a relevant adoption order or parental order in respect of the child; or
 - (b) it makes provision as regards contact between the child and a person who would be a parent or relative of the child but for the child's adoption or child becoming the subject of a parental order.

Contact activity conditions.

33.(1) This section applies if in any family proceedings the court makes–

- (a) a contact order with respect to a child; or
- (b) an order varying a contact order with respect to a child.

(2) The contact order may impose, or the contact order may be varied so as to impose, a condition (a “contact activity condition”) requiring an individual falling within subsection (3) to take part in an activity that promotes contact with the child concerned.

(3) An individual falls within this subsection if he is–

- (a) for the purposes of the contact order so made or varied, the person with whom the child concerned lives or is to live;
- (b) the person whose contact with the child concerned is provided for in that order; or
- (c) a person upon whom that order imposes a condition under section 28(7)(b).

(4) The condition made under this section shall specify the activity and the person providing the activity.

(5) Subsections (4) and (5) of section 32 have effect as regards the activities that may be required by a contact activity condition as they have effect as regards the activities that may be required by a contact activity direction.

(6) Subsection (2) has effect subject to the restrictions in subsections (7) to (8) and section 34.

(7) A contact order may not impose a contact activity condition on an individual who is a child unless the individual is a parent of the child concerned.

(8) If a contact order is an excepted order (within the meaning given by section 32(12)), it may not impose and it may not be varied so as to impose a contact activity condition.

Contact activity directions and conditions: making.

34.(1) The court shall, before making a contact activity direction or imposing a contact activity condition by means of a contact order, satisfy itself as to the following matters that–

- (a) the activity proposed to be specified is appropriate in the circumstances of the case;

- (b) the person proposed to be specified as the provider of the activity is suitable to provide the activity; and
 - (c) the activity proposed to be specified is provided in a place to which the individual who would be subject to the direction or the condition can reasonably be expected to travel.
- (2) The court shall, before making a direction or an order as referred to in subsection (1), obtain and consider information about the individual who would be subject to the direction or the condition and the likely effect of the direction or the condition on him.
- (3) Information about the likely effect of the direction or the condition may, in particular, include information as to—
- (a) any conflict with the individual’s religious beliefs; and
 - (b) any interference with the times, if any, at which he normally works or attends an educational establishment.
- (4) The court may ask an officer of the Agency to provide the court with information as to the matters in subsections (1) and (2); and it shall be the duty of the officer of the Agency to comply with any such request.
- (5) In this section “specified” means specified in a contact activity direction or in a contact activity condition.

Contact activity directions and conditions: financial assistance.

35.(1) The Government may by Regulations make provision authorising the Minister to make payments from the voted funds to assist individuals falling within subsection (2) in paying relevant charges or fees.

(2) An individual falls within this subsection if he is required by a contact activity direction or condition to take part in an activity that promotes contact with a child, not being a child ordinarily resident in Gibraltar.

(3) A relevant charge or fee, in relation to an activity required by a contact activity direction or condition, is a charge or fee in respect of the activity payable to the person providing the activity.

(4) Regulations under this section may provide that no assistance is available to an individual unless—

- (a) the individual satisfies such conditions as regards his financial resources as may be set out in the Regulations;
 - (b) the activity in which the individual is required by a contact activity direction or condition to take part is provided to him in Gibraltar; or
 - (c) it is provided by a person who is for the time being approved by the Minister as a provider of activities required by a contact activity direction or condition.
- (7) Regulations under this section may make provision–
- (a) as to the maximum amount of assistance that may be paid to or in respect of an individual as regards an activity in which he is required by a contact activity direction or condition to take part;
 - (b) where the amount may vary according to an individual’s financial resources, as to the method by which the amount is to be determined; and
 - (c) authorising payments by way of assistance to be made directly to persons providing activities required by a contact activity direction or condition.

Contact activity directions and conditions: monitoring.

36.(1) This section applies if in any family proceedings the court–

- (a) makes a contact activity direction in relation to an individual; or
 - (b) makes a contact order that imposes, or varies a contact order so as to impose, a contact activity condition on an individual.
- (2) The court may on making the direction or imposing the condition by means of a contact order ask an officer of the Agency–
- (a) to monitor, or arrange for the monitoring of, the individual’s compliance with the direction or the condition; and
 - (b) to report to the court on any failure by the individual to comply with the direction or the condition.
- (3) It shall be the duty of the officer of the Agency to comply with any request under subsection (2).

Monitoring contact.

- 37.(1) This section applies if in any family proceedings the court makes–
- (a) a contact order with respect to a child in favour of a person; or
 - (b) an order varying such a contact order.
- (2) The court may ask an officer of the Agency–
- (a) to monitor whether an individual falling within subsection (3) complies with the contact order or the contact order as varied; and
 - (b) to report to the court on such matters relating to the individual’s compliance as the court may specify in the request.
- (3) An individual falls within this subsection if the contact order so made or the contact order as so varied–
- (a) requires the individual to allow contact with the child concerned;
 - (b) names the individual as having contact with the child concerned; or
 - (c) imposes a condition under section 28(7)(b) on the individual.
- (4) If the contact order or the contact order as varied includes a contact activity condition, a request under subsection (2) is to be treated as relating to the provisions of the order other than the contact activity condition.
- (5) The court may make a request under subsection (2)–
- (a) on making the contact order or the order varying the contact order; or
 - (b) at any time during the subsequent course of the proceedings as they relate to contact with the child concerned.
- (6) In making a request under subsection (2), the court is to specify the period for which the officer of the Agency is to monitor compliance with the order; and the period specified may not exceed twelve months.
- (7) It shall be the duty of the officer of the Agency to comply with any request under subsection (2).
- (8) The court may order any individual falling within subsection (3) to take such steps as may be specified in the order with a view to enabling the officer of the Agency to comply with the court’s request under subsection (2).

(9) But the court may not make an order under subsection (8) with respect to an individual who is a child unless he is a parent of the child with respect to whom the order falling within subsection (1) was made.

(10) A court may not make a request under subsection (2) in relation to a contact order that is an excepted order (within the meaning given by section 32(12)).

Contact orders: warning notices, enforcement and parental alienation.

38.(1) Where the court makes or varies a contact order, it shall attach to the contact order or the order varying the contact order a notice warning of the consequences of failing to comply with the contact order.

(2) Where—

- (a) a contact order is in force with respect to a child in favour of any person;
- (b) the child refuses to allow compliance with the contact order or rejects or exhibits hatred towards a person mentioned in paragraph (a); and
- (c) that refusal, hatred or rejection is caused by the actions or behaviour of any other person,

the person referred to in paragraph (a) may, as soon as the requirement of subsection (3) is complied with, apply to the court for any of the orders listed in subsection (4).

(3) The requirement is that a copy of the order has been served on the other person.

(4) The court may make one or more of the following orders—

- (a) where a residence order is in force with respect to a child in favour of a person who is responsible for the circumstances set out in subsection (2)(b) and (c), revoke the residence order;
- (b) make a residence order in favour of the person referred to in subsection (2)(a) with or without a contact order in favour of the person referred to in paragraph (a) of this subsection;
- (c) make an order restraining (for any period it deems fit) any person responsible for the circumstance set out in subsection (2)(b) and (c) from having any contact or dealing with the child;

- (d) make an order ordering any person responsible for those circumstances who is in a position of parental responsibility in relation to the child to attend a Family Support Course;
- (e) make a residence order for a specified period of time in favour of a member of the child's family (who is not in a position of parental responsibility in respect of that child) or anyone who is in a position of parental responsibility for the child until the court is satisfied that there will be no further breaches of the contact order; and
- (f) make a care order for a specified period of time provided the Agency consents to that order until the court is satisfied that there will be no further breaches of the residence order.

(5) The court may only make an order under subsection (4) if it is satisfied beyond reasonable doubt that a person is responsible for the circumstances set out in subsection (2)(b) and (c).

(6) This section is without prejudice to any other remedy open to the person in whose favour the contact order is in force either under this Act or any other law.

Other enforcement orders.

39.(1) This section applies if a contact order with respect to a child has been made.

(2) If the court is satisfied beyond reasonable doubt that a person has failed to comply with the contact order, it may make an order (an "enforcement order") imposing on the person an unpaid work requirement.

(3) But the court may not make an enforcement order if it is satisfied that the person had a reasonable excuse for failing to comply with the contact order.

(4) The burden of proof as to the matter mentioned in subsection (3) lies on the person claiming to have had a reasonable excuse, and the standard of proof is the balance of probabilities.

(5) The court may make an enforcement order in relation to the contact order only on the application of—

- (a) the person who is, for the purposes of the contact order, the person with whom the child concerned lives or is to live;
- (b) the person whose contact with the child concerned is provided for in the contact order;

- (c) any individual subject to a condition under section 28(7)(b) or a contact activity condition imposed by the contact order; or
 - (d) the child concerned.
- (6) Where the person proposing to apply for an enforcement order in relation to a contact order is the child concerned, the child must obtain the leave of the court before making such an application.
- (7) The court may grant leave to the child concerned only if it is satisfied that he has sufficient understanding to make the proposed application.
- (8) Subsection (2) has effect subject to the restrictions in subsections (12) to (14) and section 40.
- (9) The court may suspend an enforcement order for such period as it thinks fit.
- (10) Nothing in this section prevents a court from making more than one enforcement order in relation to the same person on the same occasion.
- (11) Proceedings in which any question of making an enforcement order, or any other question with respect to such an order, arises are to be regarded for the purposes of section 28(1) and (2) as proceedings in which a question arises with respect to an order made under section 25.
- (12) A court may not make an enforcement order against a person in respect of a failure to comply with a contact order unless it is satisfied that before the failure occurred the person had been given (in accordance with rules of court) a copy of, or otherwise informed of the terms of—
- (a) in the case of a failure to comply with a contact order that was varied before the failure occurred, a notice under section 33 relating to the order varying the contact order or, where more than one such order has been made, the last order preceding the failure in question; and
 - (b) in any other case, a notice under section 38(1) relating to the contact order.
- (13) A court may not make an enforcement order against a person in respect of any failure to comply with a contact order occurring before the person attained the age of 18.
- (14) A court may not make an enforcement order against a person in respect of a failure to comply with a contact order that is an excepted order (within the meaning given by section 32(12)).

Enforcement orders: making.

40.(1) The court shall be satisfied, before making an enforcement order as regards a person in breach of a contact order, that—

- (a) making the enforcement order proposed is necessary to secure the person's compliance with the contact order or any contact order that has effect in its place; and
- (b) the likely effect on the person of the enforcement order proposed to be made is proportionate to the seriousness of the breach of the contact order.

(2) The court shall, before making an enforcement order as regards a person in breach of a contact order, obtain and consider information about the person and the likely effect of the enforcement order on him.

(3) Information about the likely effect of the enforcement order may, in particular, include information as to—

- (a) any conflict with the person's religious beliefs; and
- (b) any interference with the times, if any, at which he normally works or attends an educational establishment.

(4) A court that proposes to make an enforcement order may ask an officer of the Agency to provide the court with information as to the matters in subsection (3).

(5) It shall be the duty of the officer of the Agency to comply with any request under this section.

(6) In making an enforcement order in relation to a contact order, a court must take into account the welfare of the child who is the subject of the contact order.

Enforcement orders: monitoring.

41.(1) On making an enforcement order in relation to a person, the court may ask an officer of the Agency—

- (a) to monitor, or arrange for the monitoring of, the person's compliance with the unpaid work requirement imposed by the order;
- (b) to report to the court if a report under section 45 is made in relation to the person;

- (c) to report to the court on such other matters relating to the person's compliance as may be specified in the request; and
 - (d) to report to the court if the person is, or becomes, unsuitable to perform work under the requirement.
- (2) It shall be the duty of the officer of the Agency to comply with any request under this section.

Enforcement orders: warning notices.

42. Where the court makes an enforcement order, it is to attach to the order a notice warning of the consequences of failing to comply with the order.

Power to revoke an enforcement order.

43.(1) Where a court has made an enforcement order in respect of a person's failure to comply with a contact order and the enforcement order is in force, the court may revoke the enforcement order if it appears to the court that—

- (a) in all the circumstances no enforcement order should have been made;
 - (b) having regard to circumstances which have arisen since the enforcement order was made, it would be appropriate for the enforcement order to be revoked; or
 - (c) having regard to the person's satisfactory compliance with the contact order or any contact order that has effect in its place, it would be appropriate for the enforcement order to be revoked.
- (2) The enforcement order may be revoked by the court under subsection (1) of its own motion or on an application by the person subject to the enforcement order.
- (3) In deciding whether to revoke the enforcement order under subsection (1)(b), the court is to take into account—
- (a) the extent to which the person subject to the enforcement order has complied with it; and
 - (b) the likelihood that the person will comply with the contact order or any contact order that has effect in its place in the absence of an enforcement order.
- (4) In deciding whether to revoke the enforcement order under subsection (1)(c), the court is to take into account the likelihood that the person will comply with the contact order or any contact order that has effect in its place in the absence of an enforcement order.

Amendment of hours specified under unpaid work requirement.

44.(1) This section applies where a court has made an enforcement order in respect of a person's failure to comply with a contact order and the enforcement order is in force.

(2) If it appears to the court that, having regard to circumstances that have arisen since the enforcement order was made, it would be appropriate to do so, the court may reduce the number of hours specified in the order.

(3) In amending the enforcement order under subsection (2), the court must be satisfied that the effect on the person of the enforcement order as proposed to be amended is no more than is required to secure his compliance with the contact order or any contact order that has effect in its place.

(4) The enforcement order may be amended by the court under subsection (2) of its own motion or on an application by the person subject to the enforcement order.

Warning and report following breach.

45.(1) This section applies where a court has made an enforcement order in respect of a person's failure to comply with a contact order.

(2) If the responsible officer is of the opinion that the person has failed without reasonable excuse to comply with the unpaid work requirement imposed by the enforcement order, the officer must give the person a warning under this section unless—

- (a) the person has within the previous twelve months been given a warning under this section in relation to a failure to comply with the unpaid work requirement; or
- (b) the responsible officer reports the failure to the appropriate person.

(3) A warning under this section must—

- (a) describe the circumstances of the failure;
- (b) state that the failure is unacceptable; and
- (c) inform the person that, if within the next twelve months he again fails to comply with the unpaid work requirement, the warning and the subsequent failure will be reported to the appropriate person.

(4) The responsible officer must, as soon as practicable after the warning has been given, record that fact.

(5) If–

- (a) the responsible officer has given a warning under this section to a person subject to an enforcement order; and
- (b) at any time within the twelve months beginning with the date on which the warning was given, the responsible officer is of the opinion that the person has since that date failed without reasonable excuse to comply with the unpaid work requirement imposed by the enforcement order, the officer must report the failure to the appropriate person.

(6) A report under subsection (5) must include a report of the warning given to the person subject to the enforcement order.

(7) “Responsible officer”, in relation to a person subject to an enforcement order, means an officer of the Agency designated as such for the purposes of this Part.

Breach of an enforcement order.

46.(1) This section applies where a court has made an enforcement order (“the first order”) in respect of a person’s failure to comply with a contact order.

(2) If the court is satisfied beyond reasonable doubt that the person has failed to comply with the first order, the court may–

- (a) amend the first order so as to make the requirement more onerous;
- (b) make an enforcement order (“the second order”) in relation to the person and (if the first order is still in force) provide for the second order to have effect either in addition to or in substitution for the first order;
- (c) order him to pay a sum not exceeding £50 for every day during which he is in default; or
- (b) commit him to custody until he has remedied his default–

but a person shall not by virtue of this subsection be ordered to pay more than £10,000 or to be committed for more than two months in all for disobeying one or more orders at that time.

(3) But the court may not exercise its powers under subsection (2) if it is satisfied that the person had a reasonable excuse for failing to comply with the first order.

(4) The burden of proof as to the matter mentioned in subsection (3) lies on the person claiming to have had a reasonable excuse, and the standard of proof is the balance of probabilities.

(5) The court may exercise its powers under subsection (2) in relation to the first order only on the application of a person who would be able to apply under sections 38 and 39 for an enforcement order if the failure to comply with the first order were a failure to comply with the contact order to which the first order relates.

(6) Where the person proposing to apply to the court is the child with respect to whom the contact order was made, subsections (6) and (7) of section 39 have effect in relation to the application as they have effect in relation to an application for an enforcement order.

(7) An application to the court to exercise its powers under subsection (2) may only be made while the first order is in force.

(8) The court may not exercise its powers under subsection (2) in respect of a failure by the person to comply with the first order unless it is satisfied that before the failure occurred the person had been given (in accordance with rules of court) a copy of, or otherwise informed of the terms of, a notice under section 42 relating to the first order.

(9) In exercising its powers under subsection (2), the court must be satisfied that, taking into account the extent to which the person has complied with the first order, the effect on the person of the proposed exercise of those powers—

- (a) is no more than is required to secure his compliance with the contact order or any contact order that has effect in its place; and
- (b) is no more than is proportionate to the seriousness of his failures to comply with the contact order and the first order.

(10) Where the court exercises its powers under subsection (2) by making an enforcement order in relation to a person who has failed to comply with another enforcement order—

- (a) sections 40(2) to (6), 41 and 42 have effect as regards the making of the order in relation to the person as they have effect as regards the making of an enforcement order in relation to a person who has failed to comply with a contact order; and
- (b) sections 43 to 46 have effect in relation to the order so made as if it were an enforcement order made in respect of the failure for which the other order was made.

Compensation for financial loss.

47.(1) This section applies if a contact order with respect to a child has been made.

(2) If the court is satisfied that—

- (a) an individual has failed to comply with the contact order; and
- (b) a person falling within subsection (6) has suffered financial loss by reason of the breach, it may make an order requiring the individual in breach to pay the person compensation in respect of his financial loss.

(3) But the court may not make an order under subsection (2) if it is satisfied that the individual in breach had a reasonable excuse for failing to comply with the contact order.

(4) The burden of proof as to the matter mentioned in subsection (3) lies on the individual claiming to have had a reasonable excuse.

(5) An order under subsection (2) may be made only on an application by the person who claims to have suffered financial loss.

(6) A person falls within this subsection if he is—

- (a) the person who is, for the purposes of the contact order, the person with whom the child concerned lives or is to live;
- (b) the person whose contact with the child concerned is provided for in the contact order;
- (c) an individual subject to a condition under section 28(7)(b) or a contact activity condition imposed by the contact order; or
- (d) the child concerned.

(7) Where the person proposing to apply for an order under subsection (2) is the child concerned, the child must obtain the leave of the court before making such an application.

(8) The court may grant leave to the child concerned only if it is satisfied that he has sufficient understanding to make the proposed application.

(9) The amount of compensation is to be determined by the court, but may not exceed the amount of the applicant's financial loss.

(10) In determining the amount of compensation payable by the individual in breach, the court must take into account the individual's financial circumstances.

(11) An amount ordered to be paid as compensation may be recovered by the applicant as a civil debt due to him.

(12) Subsection (2) has effect subject to the restrictions in subsection (15).

(13) Proceedings in which any question of making an order under subsection (2) arises are to be regarded for the purposes of section 28(1) and (2) as proceedings in which a question arises with respect to an order made under section 25.

(14) In exercising its powers under this section, a court is to take into account the welfare of the child concerned.

(15) A court may not make an order under subsection (2) requiring an individual to pay compensation in respect of a failure by him to comply with a contact order—

- (a) unless it is satisfied that before the failure occurred the individual had been given (in accordance with rules of court) a copy of, or otherwise informed of the terms of—
 - (i) in the case of a failure to comply with a contact order that was varied before the failure occurred, a notice under section 38 relating to the order varying the contact order or, where more than one such order has been made, the last order preceding the failure in question; and
 - (ii) in any other case, a notice under section 38 relating to the contact order;
- (b) where the failure occurred before the individual attained the age of 18; and
- (c) that is an excepted order (within the meaning given by section 32(12)).

Orders for financial relief for persons over eighteen.

49.(1) If, on an application by a person who has reached the age of eighteen, it appears to the court—

- (a) that the applicant is, will be or (if an order were made under this section) would be receiving instruction at an educational establishment or undergoing training for a trade, profession or vocation, whether or not while in gainful employment; or

(4) No order shall be made under this section at a time when the parents of the applicant are living with each other in the same household.

(5) An order under subsection (2)(a) may be varied or discharged by a subsequent order made on the application of any person by or to whom payments were required to be made under the previous order.

Duration of orders for financial relief.

50.(1) The term to be specified in an order for periodical payments made under section 48(2)(a) or (b) in favour of a child may begin with the date of the making of an application for the order in question or any later date but–

- (b) shall not in any event extend beyond the child's eighteenth birthday.

(2) Paragraph (b) of subsection (1) shall not apply in the case of a child if it appears to the court that–

- (a) the child is, or will be or (if an order were made without complying with that paragraph) would be receiving instruction at an educational establishment or undergoing training for a trade, profession or vocation, whether or not while in gainful employment; or
- (b) there are special circumstances which justify the making of an order without complying with that paragraph.

(3) An order for periodical payments made under section 48(2)(a) or 49 (2)(a) shall, notwithstanding anything in the order, cease to have effect on the death of the person liable to make payments under the order.

(2) In deciding whether to exercise its powers under section 48 against a person who is not the mother or the father of the child, and if so in what manner, the court shall in addition have regard to–

- (a) whether that person had assumed responsibility for the maintenance of the child and, if so, the extent to which and basis on which he assumed that responsibility and the length of the period during which he met that responsibility;
- (b) whether he did so knowing that the child was not his child; and

(c) the liability of any other person to maintain the child.

(3) Where the court makes an order under section 48 against a person who is not the father of the child, it shall record in the order that the order is made on the basis that the person against whom the order is made is not the child's father.

(4) The persons mentioned in subsection (1) are—

- (c) the applicant for the order; and
- (d) any other person in whose favour the court proposes to make the order.

Provisions relating to lump sums.

52.(1) Without prejudice to the generality of section 48, an order under that section for the payment of a lump sum may be made for the purpose of enabling any liabilities or expenses—

- (a) incurred in connection with the birth of the child or in maintaining the child; and
- (b) reasonably incurred before the making of the order, to be met.

(3) The power of the court under section 48 or 49 to vary or discharge an order for the making or securing of periodical payments by a parent shall include power to make an order under that provision for the payment of a lump sum by that parent.

(5) An order made under section 48 or 49 for the payment of a lump sum may provide for the payment of that sum by instalments.

(6) Where the court provides for the payment of a lump sum by instalments the court, on an application made either by the person liable to pay or the person entitled to receive that sum, shall have power to vary that order by varying—

- (a) the number of instalments payable;
- (b) the amount of any instalment payable; and
- (c) the date on which any instalment becomes payable.

Variation etc. of orders for periodical payments.

53.(1) In exercising its powers under 48 or 49 to vary or discharge an order for the making or securing of periodical payments the court shall have regard to all the circumstances of the case, including any change in any of the matters to which the court was required to have regard when making the order.

(2) The power of the court under section 48 or 49 to vary an order for the making or securing of periodical payments shall include power to suspend any provision of the order temporarily and to revive any provision so suspended.

(3) Where on an application under section 48 or 49 for the variation or discharge of an order for the making or securing of periodical payments the court varies the payments required to be made under that order, the court may provide that the payments as so varied shall be made from such date as the court may specify, not being earlier than the date of the making of the application.

(4) An application for the variation of an order made under section 48 for the making or securing of periodical payments to or for the benefit of a child may, if the child has reached the age of sixteen, be made by the child himself.

(5) Where an order for the making or securing of periodical payments made under section 48 ceases to have effect on the date on which the child reaches the age of sixteen, or at any time after that date but before or on the date on which he reaches the age of eighteen, the child may apply to the court which made the order for an order for its revival.

- (6) If on such an application it appears to the court that—
- (a) the child is, will be or (if an order were made under this subsection) would be receiving instruction at an educational establishment or undergoing training for a trade, profession or vocation, whether or not while in gainful employment; or
 - (b) there are special circumstances which justify the making of an order under this section, the court shall have power by order to revive the order from such date as the court may specify, not being earlier than the date of the making of the application.

(7) Any order which is revived by an order under subsection (6) may be varied or discharged under that provision, on the application of any person by whom or to whom payments are required to be made under the revived order.

(8) An order for the making or securing of periodical payments made under section 48 may be varied or discharged, after the death of either parent, on the application of a guardian or special guardian of the child concerned.

Variation of orders for secured periodical payments after death of parent.

54.(1) Where the parent liable to make payments under a secured periodical payments order has died, the persons who may apply for the variation or discharge of the order shall include the personal representatives of the deceased parent.

(2) No application for the variation of the order shall, except with the permission of the court, be made after the end of the period of six months from the date on which representation in regard to the estate of that parent is first taken out.

(3) The personal representatives of a deceased person against whom a secured periodical payments order was made shall not be liable for having distributed any part of the estate of the deceased after the end of the period of six months referred to in subsection (2) on the ground that they ought to have taken into account the possibility that the court might permit an application for variation to be made after that period by the person entitled to payments under the order.

(4) Subsection (3) shall not prejudice any power to recover any part of the estate so distributed arising by virtue of the variation of an order in accordance with this section.

(5) Where an application to vary a secured periodical payments order is made after the death of the parent liable to make payments under the order, the circumstances to which the court is required to have regard under section 53(1) shall include the changed circumstances resulting from the death of the parent.

(6) In considering for the purposes of subsection (2) the question when representation was first taken out, a grant limited to settled land or to trust property shall be left out of account and a grant limited to real estate or to personal estate shall be left out of account unless a grant limited to the remainder of the estate has previously been made or is made at the same time.

(7) In this section “secured periodical payments order” means an order for secured periodical payments under section 48(2)(b).

Financial relief under other enactments.

55.(1) This section applies where a residence order is made with respect to a child at a time when there is in force an order made under any other enactment other than this Act requiring a person to contribute to the child's maintenance.

(2) Where this section applies, the court may, on the application of—

- (a) any person required by the order referred to in subsection (1) above to contribute to the child's maintenance; or
- (b) any person in whose favour a residence order or special guardianship order with respect to the child is in force, make an order revoking that order, or varying it by altering the amount of any sum payable under that order or by substituting the applicant for the person to whom any such sum is otherwise payable under that order.

Interim orders.

56.(1) Where an application is made under section 48 or 49 the court may, at any time before it disposes of the application, make an interim order—

- (a) requiring either or both parents to make such periodical payments, at such times and for such term as the court thinks fit; and
- (b) giving any direction which the court thinks fit.

(2) An interim order made under this section may provide for payments to be made from such date as the court may specify, not being earlier than the date of the making of the application under section 48 or 49.

(3) An interim order made under this section shall cease to have effect when the application is disposed of or, if earlier, on the date specified for the purposes of this section in the interim order.

(4) An interim order in which a date has been specified for the purposes of subsection (3) may be varied by substituting a later date.

Alteration of maintenance agreements.

57.(1) In this section “maintenance agreement” means any agreement in writing made with respect to a child, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, which—

- (a) is or was made between the father and mother of the child; and

(b) contains provision with respect to the making or securing of payments, or the disposition or use of any property, for the maintenance or education of the child, and any such provisions are in this section, referred to as “financial arrangements”.

(2) Where a maintenance agreement is for the time being subsisting and one of the parties to the agreement is for the time being resident in Gibraltar, then, either party may apply to the court for an order under this section.

(3) If the court to which the application is made is satisfied either—

- (a) that, by reason of a change in the circumstances in the light of which any financial arrangements contained in the agreement were made, including a change foreseen by the parties when making the agreement, the agreement should be altered so as to make different financial arrangements; or
- (b) that the agreement does not contain proper financial arrangements with respect to the child, then that court may by order make such alterations in the agreement by varying or revoking any financial arrangements contained in it as may appear to it to be just having regard to all the circumstances.

(4) If the maintenance agreement is altered by an order under this section, the agreement shall have effect thereafter as if the alteration had been made by agreement between the parties and for valuable consideration.

(5) Where a court decides to make an order under this section altering the maintenance agreement—

- (a) by inserting provision for the making or securing by one of the parties to the agreement of periodical payments for the maintenance of the child; or
- (b) by increasing the rate of periodical payments required to be made or secured by one of the parties for the maintenance of the child, then, in deciding the term for which under the agreement as altered by the order the payments or the additional payments attributable to the increase are to be made or secured for the benefit of the child, the court shall apply the provisions of subsections (1) and (2) of section 50 as if the order were an order under section 48(2)(a) or (b).

(6) Where a maintenance agreement provides for the continuation, after the death of one of the parties, of payments for the maintenance of a child and that party dies domiciled in

Gibraltar, the surviving party or the personal representatives of the deceased party may apply to the court for an order under this section.

(7) If a maintenance agreement is altered by the court on an application under this section, the agreement shall have effect thereafter as if the alteration had been made, immediately before the death, by agreement between the parties and for valuable consideration.

(8) An application under this section shall not, except with leave of the Supreme Court, be made after the end of the period of six months beginning with the day on which representation in regard to the estate of the deceased is first taken out.

(9) In considering for the purposes of subsection (8) the question when representation was first taken out, a grant limited to settled land or to trust property shall be left out of account and a grant limited to real estate or to personal estate shall be left out of account unless a grant limited to the remainder of the estate has previously been made or is made at the same time.

(10) The provisions of this section shall not render the personal representatives of the deceased liable for having distributed any part of the estate of the deceased after the expiry of the period of six months referred to in subsection (8) on the ground that they ought to have taken into account the possibility that the court might grant leave for an application by virtue of this section to be made by the surviving party after that period.

(11) Subsection (10) shall not prejudice any power to recover any part of the estate so distributed arising by virtue of the making of an order in pursuance of this section.

Change of address and enforcement of orders for payment of money.

58.(1) Any person for the time being under an obligation to make payments in pursuance of any order for the payment of money made by the court under this Act shall give notice of any change of address to such person, if any, as may be specified in the order.

(2) Any person failing without reasonable excuse to give the notice referred to in subsection (1) shall be guilty of an offence and liable, on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding level 2 on the standard scale.

(3) An order for the payment of money made by the court under this Act shall be enforceable as a “maintenance order” within the meaning of section 2(1) of the Magistrates’ Courts Act.

(4) If, on the application of the Agency or a person entitled to receive payments in pursuance of any order for payment of money by the court under this Act, it appears to the court—

- (a) that, at the time when the application was made, there was due under the order and unpaid an amount equal to not less than two of the payments required by the order; and

(b) that the defendant is a person to whom earnings fall to be paid, then, the court may, if it thinks fit, make an attachment of earnings order.

(5) Where the court makes an order under subsection (4), the provisions of sections 48 to 56 and the Schedule of the Maintenance Act shall apply as if the order has been made as an attachment of earnings order under that Act.

(6) In the exercise of its powers under this section the Supreme Court may exercise any of the powers exercisable by the magistrates' court under section 57 of the Magistrates' Court Act.

Financial provision for child resident in country outside Gibraltar.

59.(1) Where one parent of a child lives in Gibraltar and the child lives outside Gibraltar with—

- (a) another parent of his;
- (b) a guardian or special guardian of his; or
- (c) a person in whose favour a residence order is in force with respect to the child, the court shall have power, on an application made by any of the persons mentioned in paragraphs (a) to (c), to make one or both of the orders mentioned in section 48(2)(a) and (b) against the parent living in Gibraltar.

(2) Any reference in this Act to the powers of the court under section 48(2) or to an order made under section 48(2) shall include a reference to the powers which the court has by virtue of subsection (1) or to an order made by virtue of subsection (1).

Care Agency contribution to child's maintenance.

60.(1) Where a child lives, or is to live, with a person as the result of a residence order, the Agency may, subject to the availability of the voted funds for that purpose, make contributions to that person towards the cost of the accommodation and maintenance of the child.

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply where the person with whom the child lives, or is to live, is a parent of the child or the husband or wife or civil partner of a parent of the child.

Family assistance orders.

61.(1) Where, in any family proceedings, the court has power to make an order under Part IV or Part V of this Act with respect to any child, it may, whether or not it makes such an order, make an order requiring—

- (a) a probation officer to be made available; or
- (b) the Agency to make an officer of it available, to advise, assist and, where appropriate, befriend any person named in the order.

(2) The persons who may be named in an order under this section (“a family assistance order”) are—

- (a) any parent or guardian or special guardian of the child;
- (b) any person with whom the child is living or in whose favour a contact order is in force with respect to the child; and
- (c) the child himself.

(3) No court may make a family assistance order unless it has obtained the consent of every person to be named in the order other than the child.

(4) A family assistance order may direct—

- (a) the person named in the order; or
- (b) such of the persons named in the order as may be specified in the order, to take such steps as may be so specified with a view to enabling the officer concerned to be kept informed of the address of any person named in the order and to be allowed to visit any such person.

(5) If the court makes a family assistance order with respect to a child and the order is to be in force at the same time as a contact order made with respect to the child, the family assistance order may direct the officer concerned to give advice and assistance as regards establishing, improving and maintaining contact to such of the persons named in the order as may be specified in the order.

(6) Unless it specifies a shorter period, a family assistance order shall have effect for a period of twelve months beginning with the day on which it is made.

(7) Where—

- (a) a family assistance order is in force with respect to a child; and
- (b) an order under section 25 is also in force with respect to the child, the officer concerned may refer to the court the question whether the order made under section 25 should be varied or discharged.

(8) If the court makes a family assistance order with respect to a child and the order is to be in force at the same time as an order under section 25 made with respect to the child, the family assistance order may direct the officer concerned to report to the court on such matters relating to the order under section 25 as the court may require (including the question whether the order under section 25 ought to be varied or discharged).

(9) A family assistance order shall not be made so as to require the Agency to make an officer of it available unless it agrees.

Risk assessments.

62.(1) This section applies to the following functions of officers of the Agency—

- (a) any function in connection with family proceedings in which the court has power to make an order under this Part with respect to a child or in which a question with respect to such an order arises; and
- (b) any function in connection with an order made by the court in such proceedings.

(2) If, in carrying out any function to which this section applies, an officer of the Agency is given cause to suspect that the child concerned is at risk of harm, he must—

- (a) make a risk assessment in relation to the child; and
- (b) provide the risk assessment to the court.

(3) A risk assessment, in relation to a child who is at risk of suffering harm of a particular sort, is an assessment of the risk of that harm being suffered by the child.

63.(1) In this Part “child” includes, in any case where an application is made under section 49 or 53 in relation to a person who has reached the age of eighteen, that person.

(5) When making a care order with respect to a child, or in any family proceedings in connection with a child who is in the care of the Agency, the court may make an order under this section, even though no application for such an order has been made with respect to the child, if it considers that the order should be made.

(6) The Agency may refuse to allow the contact that would otherwise be required by virtue of subsection (1) or an order under this section if—

- (a) it is satisfied that it is necessary to do so in order to safeguard or promote the child's welfare; and

 - (b) a period as a resident patient is necessary if the examination is to be carried out properly.
- (4) No court shall include a requirement under this section in a supervision order unless it is satisfied that—
- (a) where the child has sufficient understanding to make an informed decision, he consents to its inclusion; and
 - (b) satisfactory arrangements have been, or can be, made for the examination.

Psychiatric and medical treatment.

73.(1) Where a court which proposes to make or vary a supervision order is satisfied, on the evidence of an approved clinician as defined in section 1(3) of the Mental Health Act 2016, that the mental condition of the supervised child—

- (a) is such as requires, and may be susceptible to, treatment; but
- (b) is not such as to warrant his detention in pursuance of an order under Part II of that Act, the court may include in the order a requirement that the supervised child shall, for a period specified in the order, submit to such treatment as is so specified.

- (2) The treatment specified in accordance with subsection (1) must be—

(4) The treatment specified in accordance with subsection (3) must be—

- (b) that satisfactory arrangements have been, or can be, made for the treatment.

(6) If a medical practitioner by whom or under whose direction a supervised person is being treated in pursuance of a requirement included in a supervision order by virtue of this section is unwilling to continue to treat or direct the treatment of the supervised child or is of the opinion that—

- (b) the supervised child needs different treatment;
- (c) he is not susceptible to treatment; or

Life of supervision order.

74.(1) Subject to subsection (2) and section 145 a supervision order shall cease to have effect at the end of the period of one year beginning with the date on which it was made.

Education supervision orders.

78.(1) Where it appears to the Director of Education that a parent or guardian or special guardian of any child has been in breach of any school attendance order issued under section 51 of the Education Act, he may, in consultation with the Agency, apply to the court to make an order putting that child under his supervision.

(2) The court may also make an order putting the child under the supervision of the Director of Education where the Agency, in consultation with the Director of Education, makes an application to the court for such an order.

(3) An order made pursuant subsection (1) or (2) shall be known as education supervision order.

(4) The court may only make an education supervision order if it is satisfied that the child concerned is of compulsory school age and is not being properly educated.

(5) For the purposes of this section, a child is being properly educated only if he is receiving efficient full time education suitable to his age, ability and aptitude and any special educational needs he may have.

in such a way as will, in the opinion of the supervisor, secure that he is properly educated;

(b) where any such directions given to—

- (9) Where an education supervision order and a supervision order are in force at the same time with respect to the same child, any failure to comply with a direction given by the supervisor under the education supervision order shall be disregarded if it would not have been reasonably practicable to comply with it without failing to comply with a direction given under the other order.

Duration of education supervision orders.

- 80.(1) An education supervision order shall have effect for a period of one year, beginning with the date on which it is made.
- (2) An education supervision order shall not expire if, before it would otherwise have expired, the court has (on the application of the Agency) extended the period during which it is in force.

 - (b) the direction was unreasonable; or
 - (c) he had complied with—
 - (i) a requirement included in a supervision order made with respect to the child; or
 - (ii) directions given under such a requirement, and that it was not reasonably practicable to comply both with the direction and with the requirement or directions mentioned in this section.

Powers of court

Powers of court in certain family proceedings.

84.(1) Where, in any family proceedings in which a question arises with respect to the welfare of any child, it appears to the court that it may be appropriate for a care or supervision order to be made with respect to him, the court may direct the Agency to undertake an investigation of the child's circumstances.

(2) Where the court gives a direction under this section the Agency shall, when undertaking the investigation, consider whether they should—

(3) Where the Agency undertakes an investigation under this section, and decide not to apply for a care order or supervision order with respect to the child concerned, it shall inform the court of—

- (a) its reasons for so deciding; and
- (b) any other action which they have taken, or propose to take, with respect to the child.

(4) The information shall be given to the court before the end of the period of eight weeks beginning with the date of the direction, unless the court otherwise directs.

(5) If, on the conclusion of any investigation or review under this section, the Agency decides not to apply for a care order or supervision order with respect to the child—

- (a) it shall consider whether it would be appropriate to review the case at a later date; and
- (b) if it decides that it would be, it shall determine the date on which that review is to begin.

Interim orders.

85.(1) Where—

- (a) in any proceedings on an application for a care order or supervision order, the proceedings are adjourned; or
- (b) the court gives a direction under section 84 (1), the court may make an interim care order or an interim supervision order with respect to the child concerned.

(2) A court shall not make an interim care order or interim supervision order under this section unless it is satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the circumstances with respect to the child are as mentioned in section 64(2).

(3) Where, in any proceedings on an application for a care order or supervision order, a court makes a residence order with respect to the child concerned, it shall also make an interim supervision order with respect to him unless satisfied that his welfare will be satisfactorily safeguarded without an interim order being made.

(4) An interim order made under or by virtue of this section shall have effect for such period as may be specified in the order, but shall in any event cease to have effect on whichever of the following events first occurs—

- (a) the expiry of the period of eight weeks beginning with the date on which the order is made;

- (6) Where the court makes an interim care order, or interim supervision order, it may give such directions, if any, as it considers appropriate with regard to the medical or psychiatric examination or other assessment of the child; but if the child is of sufficient understanding to make an informed decision he may refuse to submit to the examination or other assessment.
- (7) A direction under subsection (6) may be to the effect that there is to be—
- (a) no such examination or assessment; or
 - (b) no such examination or assessment unless the court directs otherwise.

- (10) Where a court makes an order under or by virtue of this section it shall, in determining the period for which the order is to be in force, consider whether any party who was, or might have been, opposed to the making of the order was in a position to argue his case against the order in full.

Power to include exclusion requirement in interim care order.

86.(1) Where—

- (a) on being satisfied that there are reasonable grounds for believing that the circumstances with respect to a child are as mentioned in section 64(2)(a) and (b)(i), the court makes an interim care order with respect to a child; and
- (b) the conditions mentioned in subsection (2) are satisfied, the court may include an exclusion requirement in the interim care order.

(2) The conditions are—

- (a) that there is reasonable cause to believe that, if a person (“the relevant person” is excluded from a dwelling-house in which the child lives, the child will cease to suffer, or cease to be likely to suffer, significant harm; and
- (b) that another person living in the dwelling-house (whether a parent of the child or some other person)—
 - (i) is able and willing to give to the child the care which it would be reasonable to expect a parent to give him, and
 - (ii) consents to the inclusion of the exclusion requirement.

(3) For the purposes of this section an exclusion requirement is any one or more of the following—

- (a) a provision requiring the relevant person to leave a dwelling-house in which he is living with the child;
- (b) a provision prohibiting the relevant person from entering a dwelling-house in which the child lives; and
- (c) a provision excluding the relevant person from a defined area in which a dwelling-house in which the child lives is situated.

(4) The court may provide that the exclusion requirement is to have effect for a shorter period than the other provisions of the interim care order.

(5) Where the court makes an interim care order containing an exclusion requirement, the court may attach a power of arrest to the exclusion requirement.

(6) Where the court attaches a power of arrest to an exclusion requirement of an interim care order, it may provide that the power of arrest is to have effect for a shorter period than the exclusion requirement.

(7) Any period specified for the purposes of subsection (4) or (6) may be extended by the court (on one or more occasions) on an application to vary or discharge the interim care order.

(8) Where a power of arrest is attached to an exclusion requirement of an interim care order by virtue of subsection (5), a police officer may arrest without warrant any person whom he has reasonable cause to believe to be in breach of the requirement.

(9) If, while an interim care order containing an exclusion requirement is in force, the Agency has removed the child from the dwelling-house from which the relevant person is excluded to other accommodation for a continuous period of more than 24 hours, the interim care order shall cease to have effect in so far as it imposes the exclusion requirement.

Undertakings relating to interim care orders.

87.(1) In any case where the court has power to include an exclusion requirement in an interim care order, the court may accept an undertaking from the relevant person.

(2) No power of arrest may be attached to any undertaking given under subsection (1).

(3) An undertaking given to a court under subsection (1)–

(a) shall be enforceable as if it were an order of the court; and

(b) shall cease to have effect if, while it is in force, the Agency has removed the child from the dwelling-house from which the relevant person is excluded to other accommodation for a continuous period of more than 24 hours.

(4) This section has effect without prejudice to the powers of the Supreme Court apart from this section.

(5) In this section “exclusion requirement” and “relevant person” have the same meaning as in section 86.

- (4) On the application of a person who is not entitled to apply for the order to be discharged, but who is a person to whom an exclusion requirement contained in the order applies, an interim care order may be varied or discharged by the court in so far as it imposes the exclusion requirement.
- (5) Where a power of arrest has been attached to an exclusion requirement of an interim care order, the court may, on the application of any person entitled to apply for the discharge of the order so far as it imposes the exclusion requirement, vary or discharge the order in so far as it confers a power of arrest (whether or not any application has been made to vary or discharge any other provision of the order).
- (6) Where a care order is in force with respect to a child the court may, on the application of any person entitled to apply for the order to be discharged, substitute a supervision order for the care order.
- (7) When a court is considering whether to substitute one order for another under subsection (4), any provision of this Act which would otherwise require section 64(2) to be satisfied at the time when the proposed order is substituted or made shall be disregarded.

89.(1) Where—

- (a) a court dismisses an application for a care order; and

- (a) on being satisfied as mentioned in section 94(1)(a), (b) or (c), the court makes an emergency protection order with respect to a child; and
- (b) the conditions mentioned in subsection (2) are satisfied, the court may include an exclusion requirement in the emergency protection order.

(2) The conditions are—

- (a) that there is reasonable cause to believe that, if a person (“the relevant person”) is excluded from a dwelling-house in which the child lives, then—
 - (i) in the case of an order made on the ground mentioned in section 94(1)(a), the child will not be likely to suffer significant harm, even though the child is not removed as mentioned in section 94(1)(a)(i) or does not remain as mentioned in section 94(1)(a)(ii); or
 - (ii) in the case of an order made on the ground mentioned in paragraph (b) or (c) of section 94 (1), the enquiries referred to in that paragraph will cease to be frustrated; and
- (b) that another person living in the dwelling-house (whether a parent of the child or some other person)—
 - (i) is able and willing to give to the child the care which it would be reasonable to expect a parent to give him; and
 - (ii) consents to the inclusion of the exclusion requirement.

(3) For the purposes of this section an exclusion requirement is any one or more of the following—

- (a) a provision requiring the relevant person to leave a dwelling-house in which he is living with the child;
- (b) a provision prohibiting the relevant person from entering a dwelling-house in which the child lives; and

- (c) a provision excluding the relevant person from a defined area in which a dwelling-house in which the child lives is situated.
- (4) The court may provide that the exclusion requirement is to have effect for a shorter period than the other provisions of the order.
- (5) Where the court makes an emergency protection order containing an exclusion requirement, the court may attach a power of arrest to the exclusion requirement.
- (6) Where the court attaches a power of arrest to an exclusion requirement of an emergency protection order, it may provide that the power of arrest is to have effect for a shorter period than the exclusion requirement.
- (7) Any period specified for the purposes of subsection (4) or (6) may be extended by the court (on one or more occasions) on an application to vary or discharge the emergency protection order.
- (8) Where a power of arrest is attached to an exclusion requirement of an emergency protection order by virtue of subsection (5), a police officer may arrest without warrant any person whom he has reasonable cause to believe to be in breach of the requirement.
- (9) If, while an emergency protection order containing an exclusion requirement is in force, the applicant has removed the child from the dwelling-house from which the relevant person is excluded to other accommodation for a continuous period of more than 24 hours, the order shall cease to have effect in so far as it imposes the exclusion requirement.

Undertakings relating to emergency protection orders.

- 96.(1) In any case where the court has power to include an exclusion requirement in an emergency protection order, the court may accept an undertaking from the relevant person.
- (2) No power of arrest may be attached to any undertaking given under subsection (1).
- (3) An undertaking given to a court under subsection (1)–
- (a) shall be enforceable as if it were an order of the court; and
 - (b) shall cease to have effect if, while it is in force, the applicant has removed the child from the dwelling-house from which the relevant person is excluded to other accommodation for a continuous period of more than 24 hours.
- (4) This section has effect without prejudice to the powers of the Supreme Court apart from this section.

(5) In this section “exclusion requirement” and “relevant person” have the same meaning as in section 95.

Duration of emergency protection orders and other supplemental provisions.

97.(1) An emergency protection order shall have effect for such period, not exceeding eight days, as may be specified in the order.

(2) Where the court making an emergency protection order would, but for this subsection, specify a period of eight days as the period for which the order is to have effect; but the last of those eight days is a public holiday (that is to say, Christmas Day, Good Friday, a bank holiday, Saturday or a Sunday), the court may specify a period which ends at noon on the first later day which is not such a holiday.

(3) Where an emergency protection order is made on an application under section 98(7), the period of eight days mentioned in subsection (1) shall begin with the first day on which the child was taken into police protection under section 98.

(4) Any person who—

- (a) has parental responsibility for a child as the result of an emergency protection order; and
- (b) is entitled to apply for a care order with respect to the child, may apply to the court for the period during which the emergency protection order is to have effect to be extended.

(5) On an application under subsection (4) the court may extend the period during which the order is to have effect by such period, not exceeding seven days, as it thinks fit, but may do so only if it has reasonable cause to believe that the child concerned is likely to suffer significant harm if the order is not extended.

(6) An emergency protection order may only be extended once.

(7) Regardless of any enactment or rule of law which would otherwise prevent it from doing so, a court hearing an application for, or with respect to, an emergency protection order may take account of—

- (a) any statement contained in any report made to the court in the course of, or in connection with, the hearing; or
- (b) any evidence given during the hearing,

- (c) any person who is not a parent of his but who has parental responsibility for him; or
- (d) any person with whom he was living immediately before the making of the order.

(9) On the application of a person who is not entitled to apply for the order to be discharged, but who is a person to whom an exclusion requirement contained in the order applies, an emergency protection order may be varied or discharged by the court in so far as it imposes the exclusion requirement.

(10) Where a power of arrest has been attached to an exclusion requirement of an emergency protection order, the court may, on the application of any person entitled to apply for the discharge of the order so far as it imposes the exclusion requirement, vary or discharge the order in so far as it confers a power of arrest (whether or not any application has been made to vary or discharge any other provision of the order).

(11) No application for the discharge of an emergency protection order shall be heard by the court before the expiry of the period of 72 hours beginning with the making of the order.

(12) No appeal may be made against the making of, or refusal to make, an emergency protection order or against any direction given by the court in connection with such an order.

(13) Subsection (8) does not apply-

- (a) where the person who would otherwise be entitled to apply for the emergency protection order to be discharged-
 - (i) was given notice (in accordance with rules of court) of the hearing at which the order was made; and
 - (ii) was present at that hearing; or
- (b) to any emergency protection order the effective period of which has been extended under subsection (5).

(14) A court making an emergency protection order may direct that the applicant may, in exercising any powers which he has by virtue of the order, be accompanied by a registered medical practitioner, registered nurse or registered health visitor, if he so chooses.

(7) While a child is being kept in police protection, the designated officer may apply on behalf of the appropriate Agency for an emergency protection order to be made under section 94 with respect to the child.

(9) While a child is being kept in police protection—

- (a) neither the police officer concerned nor the designated officer shall have parental responsibility for him; but
- (b) the designated officer shall do what is reasonable in all the circumstances of the case for the purpose of safeguarding or promoting the child's welfare (having regard in particular to the length of the period during which the child will be so protected).

- (b) have reasonable cause to suspect that a child who lives, or is found in Gibraltar is suffering, or is likely to suffer, significant harm, the Agency shall make, or cause to be made, such enquiries as it considers necessary to enable it to decide whether it should take any action to safeguard or promote the child's welfare.

(2) Where the Agency has obtained an emergency protection order with respect to a child, it shall make, or cause to be made, such enquiries as it considers necessary to enable it to decide what action it should take to safeguard or promote the child's welfare.

(3) The enquiries shall, in particular, be directed towards establishing—

- (a) whether the Agency should make any application to the court, or exercise any of its other powers under this Act, with respect to the child;
 - (b) whether, in the case of a child—
 - (i) with respect to whom an emergency protection order has been made; and

SCHEDULE

Section 93B(3)

Text of the Hague Convention of 19 October, 1996, on jurisdiction, applicable law, recognition, enforcement and co-operation in respect of parental responsibility and measures for the protection of children

The States signatory to the present Convention,

Considering the need to improve the protection of children in international situations,

Wishing to avoid conflicts between their legal systems in respect of jurisdiction, applicable law, recognition and enforcement of measures for the protection of children,

Recalling the importance of international co-operation for the protection of children,

Confirming that the best interests of the child are to be a primary consideration,

Noting that the Convention of 5 October 1961 concerning the powers of authorities and the law applicable in respect of the protection of minors is in need of revision,

Desiring to establish common provisions to this effect, taking into account the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child of 20 November 1989,

Have agreed on the following provisions:

Chapter I — scope of the convention*Article 1*

1. The objects of the present Convention are—

- a* to determine the State whose authorities have jurisdiction to take measures directed to the protection of the person or property of the child;
- b* to determine which law is to be applied by such authorities in exercising their jurisdiction;
- c* to determine the law applicable to parental responsibility;
- d* to provide for the recognition and enforcement of such measures of protection in all Contracting States;

- e* to establish such co-operation between the authorities of the Contracting States as may be necessary in order to achieve the purposes of this Convention.
2. For the purposes of this Convention, the term ‘parental responsibility’ includes parental authority, or any analogous relationship of authority determining the rights, powers and responsibilities of parents, guardians or other legal representatives in relation to the person or the property of the child.

Article 2

The Convention applies to children from the moment of their birth until they reach the age of 18 years.

Article 3

The measures referred to in Article 1 may deal in particular with–

- a* the attribution, exercise, termination or restriction of parental responsibility, as well as its delegation;
- b* rights of custody, including rights relating to the care of the person of the child and, in particular, the right to determine the child’s place of residence, as well as rights of access including the right to take a child for a limited period of time to a place other than the child’s habitual residence;
- c* guardianship, curatorship and analogous institutions;
- d* the designation and functions of any person or body having charge of the child’s person or property, representing or assisting the child;
- e* the placement of the child in a foster family or in institutional care, or the provision of care by kafala or an analogous institution;
- f* the supervision by a public authority of the care of a child by any person having charge of the child;
- g* the administration, conservation or disposal of the child’s property.

Article 4

The Convention does not apply to–

- a* the establishment or contesting of parent-child relationship;

- b* decisions on adoption, measures preparatory to adoption, or the annulment or revocation of adoption;
- c* the name and forenames of the child;
- d* emancipation;
- e* maintenance obligations;
- f* trusts or succession;
- g* social security;
- h* public measures of a general nature in matters of education or health;
- i* measures taken as a result of penal offences committed by children;
- j* decisions on the right of asylum and on immigration.

Chapter II — jurisdiction

Article 5

1. The judicial or administrative authorities of the Contracting State of the habitual residence of the child have jurisdiction to take measures directed to the protection of the child's person or property.
2. Subject to Article 7, in case of a change of the child's habitual residence to another Contracting State, the authorities of the State of the new habitual residence have jurisdiction.

Article 6

1. For refugee children and children who, due to disturbances occurring in their country, are internationally displaced, the authorities of the Contracting State on the territory of which these children are present as a result of their displacement have the jurisdiction provided for in paragraph 1 of Article 5.
2. The provisions of the preceding paragraph also apply to children whose habitual residence cannot be established.

Article 7

1. In case of wrongful removal or retention of the child, the authorities of the Contracting State in which the child was habitually resident immediately before the removal or retention keep their jurisdiction until the child has acquired a habitual residence in another State, and

- a* each person, institution or other body having rights of custody has acquiesced in the removal or retention; or
- b* the child has resided in that other State for a period of at least one year after the person, institution or other body having rights of custody has or should have had knowledge of the whereabouts of the child, no request for return lodged within that period is still pending, and the child is settled in his or her new environment.

2. The removal or the retention of a child is to be considered wrongful where—

- a* it is in breach of rights of custody attributed to a person, an institution or any other body, either jointly or alone, under the law of the State in which the child was habitually resident immediately before the removal or retention; and
- b* at the time of removal or retention those rights were actually exercised, either jointly or alone, or would have been so exercised but for the removal or retention.

The rights of custody mentioned in sub-paragraph a above, may arise in particular by operation of law or by reason of a judicial or administrative decision, or by reason of an agreement having legal effect under the law of that State.

3. So long as the authorities first mentioned in paragraph 1 keep their jurisdiction, the authorities of the Contracting State to which the child has been removed or in which he or she has been retained can take only such urgent measures under Article 11 as are necessary for the protection of the person or property of the child.

Article 8

1. By way of exception, the authority of a Contracting State having jurisdiction under Article 5 or 6, if it considers that the authority of another Contracting State would be better placed in the particular case to assess the best interests of the child, may either

- request that other authority, directly or with the assistance of the Central Authority of its State, to assume jurisdiction to take such measures of protection as it considers to be necessary, or
- suspend consideration of the case and invite the parties to introduce such a request before the authority of that other State.

2. The Contracting States whose authorities may be addressed as provided in the preceding paragraph are

- a* a State of which the child is a national,
- b* a State in which property of the child is located,
- c* a State whose authorities are seised of an application for divorce or legal separation of the child's parents, or for annulment of their marriage,
- d* a State with which the child has a substantial connection.

3. The authorities concerned may proceed to an exchange of views.

4. The authority addressed as provided in paragraph 1 may assume jurisdiction, in place of the authority having jurisdiction under Article 5 or 6, if it considers that this is in the child's best interests.

Article 9

1. If the authorities of a Contracting State referred to in Article 8, paragraph 2, consider that they are better placed in the particular case to assess the child's best interests, they may either

- request the competent authority of the Contracting State of the habitual residence of the child, directly or with the assistance of the Central Authority of that State, that they be authorised to exercise jurisdiction to take the measures of protection which they consider to be necessary, or
- invite the parties to introduce such a request before the authority of the Contracting State of the habitual residence of the child.

2. The authorities concerned may proceed to an exchange of views.

3. The authority initiating the request may exercise jurisdiction in place of the authority of the Contracting State of the habitual residence of the child only if the latter authority has accepted the request.

Article 10

1. Without prejudice to Articles 5 to 9, the authorities of a Contracting State exercising jurisdiction to decide upon an application for divorce or legal separation of the parents of a child habitually resident in another Contracting State, or for annulment of their marriage, may, if the law of their State so provides, take measures directed to the protection of the person or property of such child if

- a* at the time of commencement of the proceedings, one of his or her parents habitually resides in that State and one of them has parental responsibility in relation to the child, and
 - b* the jurisdiction of these authorities to take such measures has been accepted by the parents, as well as by any other person who has parental responsibility in relation to the child, and is in the best interests of the child.
2. The jurisdiction provided for by paragraph 1 to take measures for the protection of the child ceases as soon as the decision allowing or refusing the application for divorce, legal separation or annulment of the marriage has become final, or the proceedings have come to an end for another reason.

Article 11

1. In all cases of urgency, the authorities of any Contracting State in whose territory the child or property belonging to the child is present have jurisdiction to take any necessary measures of protection.
2. The measures taken under the preceding paragraph with regard to a child habitually resident in a Contracting State shall lapse as soon as the authorities which have jurisdiction under Articles 5 to 10 have taken the measures required by the situation.
3. The measures taken under paragraph 1 with regard to a child who is habitually resident in a non-Contracting State shall lapse in each Contracting State as soon as measures required by the situation and taken by the authorities of another State are recognised in the Contracting State in question.

Article 12

1. Subject to Article 7, the authorities of a Contracting State in whose territory the child or property belonging to the child is present have jurisdiction to take measures of a provisional character for the protection of the person or property of the child which have a territorial effect limited to the State in question, in so far as such measures are not incompatible with measures already taken by authorities which have jurisdiction under Articles 5 to 10.
2. The measures taken under the preceding paragraph with regard to a child habitually resident in a Contracting State shall lapse as soon as the authorities which have jurisdiction under Articles 5 to 10 have taken a decision in respect of the measures of protection which may be required by the situation.
3. The measures taken under paragraph 1 with regard to a child who is habitually resident in a non-Contracting State shall lapse in the Contracting State where the measures were taken as soon as measures required by the situation and taken by the authorities of another State are recognised in the Contracting State in question.

Article 13

1. The authorities of a Contracting State which have jurisdiction under Article 5 to 10 to take measures for the protection of the person or property of the child must abstain from exercising this jurisdiction if, at the time of the commencement of the proceedings, corresponding measures have been requested from the authorities of another Contracting State having jurisdiction under Articles 5 to 10 at the time of the request and are still under consideration.
2. The provisions of the preceding paragraph shall not apply if the authorities before whom the request for measures was initially introduced have declined jurisdiction.

Article 14

The measures taken in application of Articles 5 to 10 remain in force according to their terms, even if a change of circumstances has eliminated the basis upon which jurisdiction was founded, so long as the authorities which have jurisdiction under the Convention have not modified, replaced or terminated such measures.

Chapter III — applicable law

Article 15

1. In exercising their jurisdiction under the provisions of Chapter II, the authorities of the Contracting States shall apply their own law.
2. However, in so far as the protection of the person or the property of the child requires, they may exceptionally apply or take into consideration the law of another State with which the situation has a substantial connection.
3. If the child's habitual residence changes to another Contracting State, the law of that other State governs, from the time of the change, the conditions of application of the measures taken in the State of the former habitual residence.

Article 16

1. The attribution or extinction of parental responsibility by operation of law, without the intervention of a judicial or administrative authority, is governed by the law of the State of the habitual residence of the child.
2. The attribution or extinction of parental responsibility by an agreement or a unilateral act, without intervention of a judicial or administrative authority, is governed by the law of the State of the child's habitual residence at the time when the agreement or unilateral act takes effect.

3. Parental responsibility which exists under the law of the State of the child's habitual residence subsists after a change of that habitual residence to another State.

4. If the child's habitual residence changes, the attribution of parental responsibility by operation of law to a person who does not already have such responsibility is governed by the law of the State of the new habitual residence.

Article 17

The exercise of parental responsibility is governed by the law of the State of the child's habitual residence. If the child's habitual residence changes, it is governed by the law of the State of the new habitual residence.

Article 18

The parental responsibility referred to in Article 16 may be terminated, or the conditions of its exercise modified, by measures taken under this Convention.

Article 19

1. The validity of a transaction entered into between a third party and another person who would be entitled to act as the child's legal representative under the law of the State where the transaction was concluded cannot be contested, and the third party cannot be held liable, on the sole ground that the other person was not entitled to act as the child's legal representative under the law designated by the provisions of this Chapter, unless the third party knew or should have known that the parental responsibility was governed by the latter law.

2. The preceding paragraph applies only if the transaction was entered into between persons present on the territory of the same State.

Article 20

The provisions of this Chapter apply even if the law designated by them is the law of a non-Contracting State.

Article 21

1. In this Chapter the term 'law' means the law in force in a State other than its choice of law rules.

2. However, if the law applicable according to Article 16 is that of a non-Contracting State and if the choice of law rules of that State designate the law of another non-Contracting State which would apply its own law, the law of the latter State applies. If that other non-Contracting State would not apply its own law, the applicable law is that designated by Article 16.

Article 22

The application of the law designated by the provisions of this Chapter can be refused only if this application would be manifestly contrary to public policy, taking into account the best interests of the child.

Chapter IV — recognition and enforcement

Article 23

1. The measures taken by the authorities of a Contracting State shall be recognised by operation of law in all other Contracting States.

2. Recognition may however be refused—

- a* if the measure was taken by an authority whose jurisdiction was not based on one of the grounds provided for in Chapter II;
- b* if the measure was taken, except in a case of urgency, in the context of a judicial or administrative proceeding, without the child having been provided the opportunity to be heard, in violation of fundamental principles of procedure of the requested State;
- c* on the request of any person claiming that the measure infringes his or her parental responsibility, if such measure was taken, except in a case of urgency, without such person having been given an opportunity to be heard;
- d* if such recognition is manifestly contrary to public policy of the requested State, taking into account the best interests of the child;
- e* if the measure is incompatible with a later measure taken in the non-Contracting State of the habitual residence of the child, where this later measure fulfils the requirements for recognition in the requested State;
- f* if the procedure provided in Article 33 has not been complied with.

Article 24

Without prejudice to Article 23, paragraph 1, any interested person may request from the competent authorities of a Contracting State that they decide on the recognition or non-recognition of a measure taken in another Contracting State. The procedure is governed by the law of the requested State.

Article 25

The authority of the requested State is bound by the findings of fact on which the authority of the State where the measure was taken based its jurisdiction.

Article 26

1. If measures taken in one Contracting State and enforceable there require enforcement in another Contracting State, they shall, upon request by an interested party, be declared enforceable or registered for the purpose of enforcement in that other State according to the procedure provided in the law of the latter State.

2. Each Contracting State shall apply to the declaration of enforceability or registration a simple and rapid procedure.

3. The declaration of enforceability or registration may be refused only for one of the reasons set out in Article 23, paragraph 2.

Article 27

Without prejudice to such review as is necessary in the application of the preceding Articles, there shall be no review of the merits of the measure taken.

Article 28

Measures taken in one Contracting State and declared enforceable, or registered for the purpose of enforcement, in another Contracting State shall be enforced in the latter State as if they had been taken by the authorities of that State. Enforcement takes place in accordance with the law of the requested State to the extent provided by such law, taking into consideration the best interests of the child.

Chapter V — co-operation

Article 29

1. A Contracting State shall designate a Central Authority to discharge the duties which are imposed by the Convention on such authorities.

2. Federal States, States with more than one system of law or States having autonomous territorial units shall be free to appoint more than one Central Authority and to specify the territorial or personal extent of their functions. Where a State has appointed more than one Central Authority, it shall designate the Central Authority to which any communication may be addressed for transmission to the appropriate Central Authority within that State

Article 30

1. Central Authorities shall co-operate with each other and promote co-operation amongst the competent authorities in their States to achieve the purposes of the Convention.

2. They shall, in connection with the application of the Convention, take appropriate steps to provide information as to the laws of, and services available in, their States relating to the protection of children.

Article 31

The Central Authority of a Contracting State, either directly or through public authorities or other bodies, shall take all appropriate steps to—

- a* facilitate the communications and offer the assistance provided for in Articles 8 and 9 and in this Chapter;
- b* facilitate, by mediation, conciliation or similar means, agreed solutions for the protection of the person or property of the child in situations to which the Convention applies;
- c* provide, on the request of a competent authority of another Contracting State, assistance in discovering the whereabouts of a child where it appears that the child may be present and in need of protection within the territory of the requested State.

Article 32

On a request made with supporting reasons by the Central Authority or other competent authority of any Contracting State with which the child has a substantial connection, the Central Authority of the Contracting State in which the child is habitually resident and present may, directly or through public authorities or other bodies,

- a* provide a report on the situation of the child;
- b* request the competent authority of its State to consider the need to take measures for the protection of the person or property of the child.

Article 33

1. If an authority having jurisdiction under Articles 5 to 10 contemplates the placement of the child in a foster family or institutional care, or the provision of care by kafala or an analogous institution, and if such placement or such provision of care is to take place in another Contracting State, it shall first consult with the Central Authority or other competent authority of the latter State. To that effect it shall transmit a report on the child together with the reasons for the proposed placement or provision of care

2. The decision on the placement or provision of care may be made in the requesting State only if the Central Authority or other competent authority of the requested State has consented to the placement or provision of care, taking into account the child's best interests

1. Where a measure of protection is contemplated, the competent authorities under the Convention, if the situation of the child so requires, may request any authority of another Contracting State which has information relevant to the protection of the child to communicate such information.

2. A Contracting State may declare that requests under paragraph 1 shall be communicated to its authorities only through its Central Authority.

Article 35

1. The competent authorities of a Contracting State may request the authorities of another Contracting State to assist in the implementation of measures of protection taken under this Convention, especially in securing the effective exercise of rights of access as well as of the right to maintain direct contacts on a regular basis.

2. The authorities of a Contracting State in which the child does not habitually reside may, on the request of a parent residing in that State who is seeking to obtain or to maintain access to the child, gather information or evidence and may make a finding on the suitability of that parent to exercise access and on the conditions under which access is to be exercised. An authority exercising jurisdiction under Articles 5 to 10 to determine an application concerning access to the child, shall admit and consider such information, evidence and finding before reaching its decision.

3. An authority having jurisdiction under Articles 5 to 10 to decide on access may adjourn a proceeding pending the outcome of a request made under paragraph 2, in particular, when it is considering an application to restrict or terminate access rights granted in the State of the child's former habitual residence.

4. Nothing in this Article shall prevent an authority having jurisdiction under Articles 5 to 10 from taking provisional measures pending the outcome of the request made under paragraph 2.

Article 36

In any case where the child is exposed to a serious danger, the competent authorities of the Contracting State where measures for the protection of the child have been taken or are under consideration, if they are informed that the child's residence has changed to, or that the child is present in another State, shall inform the authorities of that other State about the danger involved and the measures taken or under consideration.

Article 37

An authority shall not request or transmit any information under this Chapter if to do so would, in its opinion, be likely to place the child's person or property in danger, or constitute a serious threat to the liberty or life of a member of the child's family.

Article 38

1. Without prejudice to the possibility of imposing reasonable charges for the provision of services, Central Authorities and other public authorities of Contracting States shall bear their own costs in applying the provisions of this Chapter.
2. Any Contracting State may enter into agreements with one or more other Contracting States concerning the allocation of charges.

Article 39

Any Contracting State may enter into agreements with one or more other Contracting States with a view to improving the application of this Chapter in their mutual relations. The States which have concluded such an agreement shall transmit a copy to the depositary of the Convention.

Chapter VI — general provisions

Article 40

1. The authorities of the Contracting State of the child's habitual residence, or of the Contracting State where a measure of protection has been taken, may deliver to the person having parental responsibility or to the person entrusted with protection of the child's person or property, at his or her request, a certificate indicating the capacity in which that person is entitled to act and the powers conferred upon him or her.

2. The capacity and powers indicated in the certificate are presumed to be vested in that person, in the absence of proof to the contrary.
3. Each Contracting State shall designate the authorities competent to draw up the certificate.

Article 41

Personal data gathered or transmitted under the Convention shall be used only for the purposes for which they were gathered or transmitted.

Article 42

The authorities to whom information is transmitted shall ensure its confidentiality, in accordance with the law of their State.

Article 43

All documents forwarded or delivered under this Convention shall be exempt from legalisation or any analogous formality.

Article 44

Each Contracting State may designate the authorities to which requests under Articles 8, 9 and 33 are to be addressed.

Article 45

1. The designations referred to in Articles 29 and 44 shall be communicated to the Permanent Bureau of the Hague Conference on Private International Law.
2. The declaration referred to in Article 34, paragraph 2, shall be made to the depositary of the Convention.

Article 46

A Contracting State in which different systems of law or sets of rules of law apply to the protection of the child and his or her property shall not be bound to apply the rules of the Convention to conflicts solely between such different systems or sets of rules of law.

Article 47

In relation to a State in which two or more systems of law or sets of rules of law with regard to any matter dealt with in this Convention apply in different territorial units–

1. any reference to habitual residence in that State shall be construed as referring to habitual residence in a territorial unit;
2. any reference to the presence of the child in that State shall be construed as referring to presence in a territorial unit;
3. any reference to the location of property of the child in that State shall be construed as referring to location of property of the child in a territorial unit;
4. any reference to the State of which the child is a national shall be construed as referring to the territorial unit designated by the law of that State or, in the absence of relevant rules, to the territorial unit with which the child has the closest connection;
5. any reference to the State whose authorities are seised of an application for divorce or legal separation of the child's parents or for annulment of their marriage shall be construed as referring to the territorial unit whose authorities are seised of such application;
6. any reference to the State with which the child has a substantial connection shall be construed as referring to the territorial unit with which the child has such connection;
7. any reference to the State to which the child has been removed or in which he or she has been retained shall be construed as referring to the relevant territorial unit to which the child has been removed or in which he or she has been retained;
8. any reference to bodies or authorities of that State, other than Central Authorities, shall be construed as referring to those authorised to act in the relevant territorial unit;
9. any reference to the law or procedure or authority of the State in which a measure has been taken shall be construed as referring to the law or procedure or authority of the territorial unit in which such measure was taken;
10. any reference to the law or procedure or authority of the requested State shall be construed as referring to the law or procedure or authority of the territorial unit in which recognition or enforcement is sought.

Article 48

For the purpose of identifying the applicable law under Chapter III, in relation to a State which comprises two or more territorial units each of which has its own system of law or set of rules of law in respect of matters covered by this Convention, the following rules apply—

- a* if there are rules in force in such a State identifying which territorial unit's law is applicable, the law of that unit applies;
- b* in the absence of such rules, the law of the relevant territorial unit as defined in Article 47 applies.

Article 49

For the purpose of identifying the applicable law under Chapter III, in relation to a State which has two or more systems of law or sets of rules of law applicable to different categories of persons in respect of matters covered by this Convention, the following rules apply–

- a* if there are rules in force in such a State identifying which among such laws applies, that law applies;
- b* in the absence of such rules, the law of the system or the set of rules of law with which the child has the closest connection applies.

Article 50

This Convention shall not affect the application of the Convention of 25 October 1980 on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction, as between Parties to both Conventions. Nothing, however, precludes provisions of this Convention from being invoked for the purposes of obtaining the return of a child who has been wrongfully removed or retained or of organising access rights.

Article 51

In relations between the Contracting States this Convention replaces the Convention of 5 October 1961 concerning the powers of authorities and the law applicable in respect of the protection of minors, and the Convention governing the guardianship of minors, signed at The Hague 12 June 1902, without prejudice to the recognition of measures taken under the Convention of 5 October 1961 mentioned above.

Article 52

1. This Convention does not affect any international instrument to which Contracting States are Parties and which contains provisions on matters governed by the Convention, unless a contrary declaration is made by the States Parties to such instrument.
2. This Convention does not affect the possibility for one or more Contracting States to conclude agreements which contain, in respect of children habitually resident in any of the States Parties to such agreements, provisions on matters governed by this Convention.

3. Agreements to be concluded by one or more Contracting States on matters within the scope of this Convention do not affect, in the relationship of such States with other Contracting States, the application of the provisions of this Convention.

4. The preceding paragraphs also apply to uniform laws based on special ties of a regional or other nature between the States concerned.

Article 53

1. The Convention shall apply to measures only if they are taken in a State after the Convention has entered into force for that State

2. The Convention shall apply to the recognition and enforcement of measures taken after its entry into force as between the State where the measures have been taken and the requested State.

Article 54

1. Any communication sent to the Central Authority or to another authority of a Contracting State shall be in the original language, and shall be accompanied by a translation into the official language or one of the official languages of the other State or, where that is not feasible, a translation into French or English.

2. However, a Contracting State may, by making a reservation in accordance with Article 60, object to the use of either French or English, but not both.

Article 55

1. A Contracting State may, in accordance with Article 60,

- a* reserve the jurisdiction of its authorities to take measures directed to the protection of property of a child situated on its territory;
- b* reserve the right not to recognise any parental responsibility or measure in so far as it is incompatible with any measure taken by its authorities in relation to that property.

2. The reservation may be restricted to certain categories of property.

Article 56

The Secretary General of the Hague Conference on Private International Law shall at regular intervals convoke a Special Commission in order to review the practical operation of the Convention.

Chapter VII — final clauses

Article 57

1. The Convention shall be open for signature by the States which were Members of the Hague Conference on Private International Law at the time of its Eighteenth Session.
2. It shall be ratified, accepted or approved and the instruments of ratification, acceptance or approval shall be deposited with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Kingdom of the Netherlands, depositary of the Convention.

Article 58

1. Any other State may accede to the Convention after it has entered into force in accordance with Article 61, paragraph 1.
2. The instrument of accession shall be deposited with the depositary.
3. Such accession shall have effect only as regards the relations between the acceding State and those Contracting States which have not raised an objection to its accession in the six months after the receipt of the notification referred to in sub-paragraph b of Article 63. Such an objection may also be raised by States at the time when they ratify, accept or approve the Convention after an accession. Any such objection shall be notified to the depositary.

Article 59

1. If a State has two or more territorial units in which different systems of law are applicable in relation to matters dealt with in this Convention, it may at the time of signature, ratification, acceptance, approval or accession declare that the Convention shall extend to all its territorial units or only to one or more of them and may modify this declaration by submitting another declaration at any time.
2. Any such declaration shall be notified to the depositary and shall state expressly the territorial units to which the Convention applies.
3. If a State makes no declaration under this Article, the Convention is to extend to all territorial units of that State.

Article 60

1. Any State may, not later than the time of ratification, acceptance, approval or accession, or at the time of making a declaration in terms of Article 59, make one or both of the reservations provided for in Articles 54, paragraph 2, and 55. No other reservation shall be permitted.
2. Any State may at any time withdraw a reservation it has made. The withdrawal shall be notified to the depositary.
3. The reservation shall cease to have effect on the first day of the third calendar month after the notification referred to in the preceding paragraph.

Article 61

1. The Convention shall enter into force on the first day of the month following the expiration of three months after the deposit of the third instrument of ratification, acceptance or approval referred to in Article 57.
2. Thereafter the Convention shall enter into force—
