Provided that where the Minister is satisfied that the joint income of the student and his spouse in the next succeeding financial year is likely to be not more than four-fifths of that income, he may for the purpose of calculating the spouse's contribution ascertain the gross income by reference to that next succeeding financial year, and in that case the above definition shall have effect accordingly both in relation to that year and, if the Minister so determines the year following that year and any subsequent year.

4. To ascertain residual income, as defined in paragraph 1, the deductions therein referred to shall be those deductions, which are allowed under the Income Tax Act or any subsidiary legislation made thereunder for the purposes of assessing taxable income.

5. Where, in the opinion of the Minister a student or his spouse, without satisfactory reason, has failed to supply any information required relevant to any application for an award under the provisions of these Regulations, the bestowal of any award made to the student under regulation 3 of these Regulations shall be at the minimum rate.
